The left sidebar contains a navigation menu with "LMS (Learning Management System)" highlighted in a red box. The main content area contains the following text:

Dear Faculty Members,

Over the last decade, Learning Management Systems (LMS) have become mainstream in higher education and are widely used across many Universities. As you are aware, Amity has launched the Learning Management System (A-LMS) to support teaching and learning initiatives for a better interface & flow of Learning Materials to the students during the month of December 2016. From Feb 2018, the LMS was merged with Amizone. So, it is expected from all faculty members to use the LMS features in a more effective way and encourage student participation. All institutions & faculty & students did use the A-LMS. But we need to increase the utilization of A-LMS among faculty and the students, it has thus been discussed & recommended that all internal assessment components will be routed through the A-LMS (both online & offline assessment activities).

Some of the important features of A-LMS for your ready reference: -

- 1. Recorded Video Lectures with Quizzes – It is a pedagogical approach in which direct instruction moves from the group learning space to the individual learning space. A short video lecture/Open source reference material covering the conceptual background of subjects created/shared by the faculty are viewed by the students before the class session and the class time is devoted towards case study, exercises, projects and discussions.
- 2. Posting Content or Uploading Files – Faculty members can upload all the course related textual content such as Syllabus, Presentations, Files, Images, URLs, Videos, Scorm etc. at A-LMS, which student can access from any part of the world using Internet at any time.
- 3. Assessments - The Assignment option allows instructors to create coursework and assign it a name, point value, and description, attach files, manage grades for each student and can easily track their performance.
- 4. Announcements - Announcements tool can be used to provide students with course reminders and updates. Announcements can contain text, images, and multimedia, as well as it can be linked to course content, Assignments & Tests.
- 5. Grade Center - The Grade Center is a built-in grade book for each course in A-LMS. It provides a place to store, manage, and calculate student grades, both on items such as assignments and tests that are created and graded within A-LMS as well as on items that are created outside the A-LMS, which can be entered manually into the grade center.
- 6. Discussion Board – A-LMS discussion board feature allows participants to carry on discussions online, at any time of the day or night, with no need for the

Details

27/01/2021 11:00AM - 1:00PM

Topic : "Work-Fitness- Health (Self-Care)"

Speaker : Dr Aninha Lobo, Former Head and Professor of Psychology, Sophia College, for Women, University of Mumbai., Dr Nandini Diwan, Former Head Dept Of Psychology, Ruparel College and Chairperson Board of Studies, University of Mumbai., Dr Eshita Mandal - Practicing Psychologist and Former Faculty of Department of Psychology - University of Mumbai

Details on lecture : In the current scenario, uncertainty, and unpredictability prevails in every sphere of life, taking care of oneself is more important than ever before. Self-care is constantly ongoing process of caring for yourself; making a conscious effort to do things that sustain, recuperate, and restore your mental, emotional, physical, and spiritual wellness. Keeping the needs of this situation in mind and to facilitate our students and faculty people with healthy coping strategies and self-care techniques, DSW-AUM and AIBAS's Counselling Center is organizing a webinar on "Work-Fitness-Health (Self-Care)" on 27th January 2021.

Item No. AC 23.2: Introduction of New Courses.

- (a) ASET: Introduction of M.Tech in Defence Technology: The M.Tech. in defence technology course has been designed to produce Post Graduates who will have the necessary theoretical & experimental knowledge, skill and aptitude in various defence technologies areas and pursue them to carry out R&D in defence. The students will be provided valuable exposure & knowledge for various state of the art defence systems and contemporary technologies through class lectures & main thesis work. During the program, the students would be given valuable exposure by carrying out their main thesis work in DRDO labs, Defence PSUs & Private Defence Industries. This collaborative effort of DRDO, AICTE and Industries will provide required knowledge to the students and create job opportunities for them. The academic-industry trained workforce will immensely contribute to realizing GOI vision of Atmanirbhar Bharat.

The brief presentation on its Conduct, Course objective, Program Structure was carried out Maj Gen G S Bal, DSW who is also the Program Head and Prof (Dr) Shalini Bhaskar Bajaj the Co-Chairperson for the said program and same is attached as Appx 'C'.

- (b) AIB/AIISH: PG diploma in quality control analysis and instrumentation. To report and rectify newly proposed syllabus (details attached as Appx 'D'):

One Year PG Diploma in Quality Control Analysis and Instrumentation, with 2 Elective as Listed Below:

- ✓ Specialization Option 1: Microbiology and imaging specialist (Mapped to Quality Control Microbiologist – LFS/Q0308 Ver 2.0).
- ✓ Specialization Option 2: Spectroscopy & chromatography specialist (Mapped to Quality Control Chemist – High Performance Liquid Chromatography (HPLC) Ultraviolet – visible – Spectroscopy (UV), Fourier Transform Infrared Spectroscopy (FT-IR) – LFS/Q1301 Ver 2.0) As approved by Life Sciences Sector Skill Development Council (LSSSDC).

- (c) ABS: Introduction of MBA in Sustainability Management and Executive MBA in Sustainability Management (Part time), both the Programs are a new two-year program which are planned in collaboration with Foreign Universities and their Program structure are at Appx 'E' & 'F'.

- (d) ASCO: To approve revision in the curriculum and program structure of BA JMC, BSc. A&VG, MA JMC and PGDJMC as given at Appx 'G'.

- ✓(e) AMS & ACON: To consider and approve the following as listed below and given at Appx 'H'.

- ✓ B.Sc Nursing Syllabus – Revised regulation from the year 2021 onwards (as per new guidelines of Indian Nursing Council – 2021).

AMITY LAW SCHOOL

1. The Meeting of Board of Studies (BoS) of Amity Law School was held on, 15 September 2021, for the purpose of considering the Agenda issued vide mail dated 02 Sep 2021.
2. It was proposed to introduce a Specialisation in the LL.M Programme, named 'Child Rights and Protection'. The Course for LL.M, 1st and 2nd Semesters item-wise in the Agenda was placed before the Board.
3. The External Member suggested that each Course should have uniform number of Modules and Topics. While the suggestion has been carried out in all the Courses of the Specialisation under consideration by the BoS, the compulsory subjects (Research Methodology and Legal Writing, Comparative Public Law or System of Governance of 1st Semester and Law & Justice in a Globalising World and Dissertation of 2nd Semester) which are common for all the other Specialisations (Corporate Law, Constitutional Law and Criminal Law) have not been changed since they were not for review in this BoS. We shall plan and put the compulsory subjects for review in the next BoS and do the needful then.
4. The Board cultivated and approved the below mentioned Course Curriculum:

1 YEAR POST GRADUATE LAW PROGRAMME

LLM in Child Rights and Protection, 1st Semester

(Annexure 1)

- Item 1.1 Curriculum of Research Method & Legal Writing
- Item 1.2 Curriculum of Comparative Public Law/System of Governance
- Item 1.3 Curriculum of Theorizing Child Rights and Legal Order

LAW & JUSTICE IN A GLOBALISING WORLD

Course Code: LAW4201

Credit Units: 03

Course Objective:

The title of the subject, as suggested in the UGC Guidelines dated 18 January 2013, does not seem to restrict its scope at the level of discussion of abstract concepts and theories. The part in the globalising world is to be taken seriously and the idea of law and justice needs to be discussed in the specific context of globalisation. This essentially means creation of a better understanding of international law as well as an analysis of how and to what extent the existing and emerging legal framework at the international level ensures justice. This also includes study of institutional framework at the global level relevant in the context of global justice.

The issue of overlapping with some streams of specialisations such as human rights, and humanitarian law is not critical because these branches of law are not to be discussed in detail. Instead it will be discussed from a restricted angle – justice perspective. Moreover, the theories and concepts need to be linked with the contemporary reality and discussed in the light of these issues that will help the students to understand as well as analyse it effectively. In this background, the broad objectives of the subject are-Introduction and discussion of concepts and theories relating to law and justice in the specific context of the globalising world and examine whether international law promotes justice or perpetrates injustice. The students will also learn about the changes that may be advocated (if needed) to ensure a world order that ensures justice for all

Course Contents:

Module-I: Legal theories relevant in globalisation context

1. Globalisation – concept, history and development -various dimensions of globalisation (economic, cultural etc) – legal dimension of globalization.
2. Public International Law – nature, scope, contemporary relevance and challenges.
3. Globalisation - implications for law and justice:

Registrar

 - Post-Colonial situation – women’s rights, self-determination, indigenous people’s rights etc. Globalisation of law – harmonization of law- emergence of global institutions (e.g. IPRs, protection of investors’ rights, universal human rights).
 - Constitutionalism in international order.
 - Global environmental justice.
4. Law and justice at the global level – developing countries and Indian perspective [Case studies – strengthening IPR regime and investment law regime, exploitation of resources (including genetic resources) in the developing world; working of the UN Security Council].

Module-II: Global Justice Organisations and Movements

1. Global justice and International Organisations
 - United Nations - humanitarian intervention, responsibility to protect, judicial review, Veto system, UN reforms.
2. International Financial Institutions (WTO, IMF, WB) – implications for global justice
 - Dominance of western countries.
 - Western concepts being global concepts (e.g. IPR, Investment, human rights).
 - Designing the domestic law and policies through International Law and loan conditionality.
2. Global movements – implications for law and justice
 - How global movements shape/influence/change international law to ensure justice?
 - Case studies – indigenous people’s rights/women’s rights/environmental justice/anti-privatisation movements (e.g. right to water movements)/human rights movements (access to medicine, farmers’ rights etc.).
 - Indian perspective – anti-patent movements in India (e.g. Novartis case/gene campaign etc.)/ anti-FTA movements in India/Anti-IFI movements.

CRIMES AGAINST CHILDREN

Course Code: LAW 4213

Credit Units: 02

Course Objective: The study of Criminal Law is incomplete without discussing the crimes related to vulnerable sections of society like women and children. It is important to address this social concern in order to have a holistic approach towards Criminal Law. Children are considered an important asset of a nation as the future depends on how they mature and develop. In the present times, protection of children from all kinds of exploitation and abuses (sexual molestation, child marriage, child prostitution, child pornography and child labour etc.) has become the main objective of our society. This Course will focus on articulating different Laws which help in protecting the childhood so as to have a better understanding of the provisions helping in providing the basic necessities and protecting them. To achieve this aim, this Course has been introduced wherein a 360-degree approach has been taken to study the crimes and offences against children.

JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM AND ADMINISTRATION

Course Code: LAW 4214

Credit Units: 02

Course Objective: Juvenile Justice and Administration is an area of great concern for any Criminal Justice System. Juvenile-centric human rights jurisprudence has become pivotal in Law's role in society. The Juvenile Justice System in India, the ripple effect of the Criminal Justice System, has always been marked by the tussle between the protective approach of juvenile justice and the traditional approach of the latter. Despite the constitutional guarantees and a plethora of juvenile-centred legislations and civil rights, Juveniles face widespread discrimination and deprivation. There are unprecedented incidents of police brutality and abuse in the Observation Homes, along with incompetence and delay on the part of Probation Officers. A ray of hope glimmers in the form of protection of Juveniles from offences, which not only aspires to curb the sexual atrocities against them, but also to rein the media by prohibiting comments towards, either accused or victim of an offence, which may lower character or infringe privacy.

The Course is designed to discuss and enlighten the students regarding the various Pre and Post-Independence Laws and Policies promulgated for the protection of Children in Conflict with Law.

Course Contents:
