Dr. Singh did his Ph. D. in Zoology (Insect Physiology), M.Phil. (Zoology- Entomology), Master degrees in 4 subjects viz. Zoology, Forestry, Sociology, Geoinformation (GIS & Remote Sensing). He also did Diploma in Management.

Dr. Singh joined Indian Forest Service in 1983 and served on several important assignments in the Forest Department of Assam. He also contributed in various wildlife conservation programmes at word heritage Sites – Manas and Kaziranga Tiger Reserve. Reintroduction of Rhinos and revival of critically endangered species at Manas Tiger Reserve is the special contribution of Dr Singh.

Dr. Singh also served in the Project Tiger (Now NTCA) in Govt of India. He also served in Wildlife Institute of India (WII), Dehradun, Indian Council of Forestry Research and Education (ICFRE), Dehradun and Indra Gandhi National Forest Academy (IGNFA), Dehradun in different capacities.

He widely travelled in India and abroad for attending trainings, study tours, academic courses, seminars and workshops. He has expertise in the field of Biodiversity Conservation, Eco-development, Forestry and Wildlife management, GIS & Remote Sensing, Climate Change & Carbon Assessment and Legal issues with forestry and wildlife sector.

Special interest was taken in aided natural regeneration of Hollong - Makai Rain Forests in Upper Assam and anti-depression measures with reference to Wild Elephants and Leopards. Associated with planning, project formulation and implementation of ecodevelopment schemes around PAs as park-people interface. Research work related with Assessment and Evaluation of Biological Diversity and forest Productivity in Garo Conservation Area (Meghalaya).

Research Study was carried out on the Impact of Forest Degradation on Carbon Density in Soil and Vegetation of Shorea robusta_(Sal) Forests in the part of Siwalik hills of Dehradun, India, using Geospatial Techniques during the period 2008-10 with an objective to determine the variability of carbon density in soil and vegetation relationships among soil organic carbon, biomass carbon and forest degradation as well as the potential of carbon sequestration in Sal forests, using IRS LISS III satellite data and ground data collected from stratified random sampling based on homogeneity map of forest strata. The correlation of above ground biomass with NDVI was used for mapping aboveground biomass and carbon from plot level to the area of Sal forests.
