Objective: The primary objective of this paper is to answer the question how and why the present has evolved from the past in the manner it has. There is another reason which makes history so important. The way we perceive our past constructs our identity in the present and also builds our vision of the future. For this reason it is important to understand both historiography and historical methodology. History must encourage critical thinking to identify myths and stereotypes, and embedded meanings and discourses. History helps us to understand the socio, economic and political context in which legal system emerge and evolve. A study of the nature of the state and administrative apparatus is required for proper understanding of the legal systems in ancient and medieval India. The paper will offer a close study of select themes, focussing specifically on the intersections in history and law.

1. Universal’s Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Bare Act)
Objectives: Alternative Dispute Resolution has become the primary means by which cases are resolved now days, especially commercial, business disputes. It has emerged as the preferred method for resolving civil cases, with litigation as a last resort. Alternative Dispute Resolution provides an overview of the statutory, procedural, and case law underlining these processes and their interplay with litigation. A significant theme is the evolving role of professional ethics for attorneys operating in non-adversarial settings. Clients and courts increasingly express a preference for attorneys who are skilled not only in litigation but in problem-solving, which costs the clients less in terms of time, money and relationship. The law of ADR also provides an introduction to negotiation and mediation theory.
