

Qualification Rounds - Oxford University India Research Paper Competition 2013-14

The Faculty of Law of the University of Oxford will be organizing the Oxford University India Research Paper Competition 2013-14 [Competition]. The registration deadline for the Competition is January 01, 2014, and last date for submission of papers is February 1, 2014.

The research topics for Competition are as follows:

- A. Evaluate the concept of corporate social responsibility as expressed in the Companies Act 2013.
- B. Should gambling on the outcomes of sporting events be legalized in India?
- C. Do India's laws governing the surveillance of electronic communications strike the right balance between security and the right to privacy? If they do not, what reforms are needed to achieve the correct balance?

Only one team from an institution is permitted to participate in the Competition.

For the purpose of selecting a team (consisting of one or two members) to represent ALS, an intra-college 'Qualification Round' will be conducted wherein all students who are willing to participate will be expected to submit a 'sample paper' on any one of the topics enumerated above.

The 'sample paper' should be a concise version of the main paper that the students wish to present in the Competition (but not an abstract) and should conform to Article-IV of the Competition Rules in all material particulars, with the exception that it should be no more than 1000 words.

Last date for submission of hard copy of sample paper is: 11th November 2013

Paper is to be submitted to: Ms. Neha Arora, Executive Assistant

The sample papers so submitted will be evaluated by a committee consisting of faculty members under the convenorship of Prof (Dr.) Isheetarutabhasini.

The team with the best paper will be eligible to represent the college.

Other details regarding the Competition can be found at <http://www.orpc.in/>.
