Impetus Code Jam 2010

Impetus is conducting a code jam session on 3rd April 2010 for all the final year engineering students (Computer Science and other related streams) graduating in the year 2010. This code jam session would be an opportunity for students to demonstrate their ideas, talent and capability. All participants would receive participation certificate along-with awards for the top performers. Impetus may consider extending employment offers to selected candidates based on their performance during the event.

Code Jam Details

a. The students will have to form their own teams. Any team should comprise of a minimum of 2 people or maximum of 3 people.

b. The team will need to complete the application form for participation with an idea. Based on the idea, the teams would be shortlisted and invited to code jam session at Impetus.

c. The teams are expected to come equipped with their own hardware/software required for the code jam. In case there is any specific need, please let us know along-with the application form.

d. The teams will need to demonstrate the implementation of the idea with a running application / prototype developed during the code jam session.

e. The contest is open to all the final year engineering students (Computer Science and other related streams) graduating in the year 2010, in Delhi/NCR and Indore region.

The teams are required to fill and submit the application form with complete details by 31st March 2010.

All the details of the session are available at http://sites.google.com/site/impetuscodejam2010

Students are required to submit the application form http://sites.google.com/site/impetuscodejam2010/impetus-code-jam-2010-application-form by 31st March’10.

All participants would receive participation certificate along-with awards for the top performers. Impetus may consider extending employment offers to selected candidates based on their performance during the event.

Incase of any queries, please send email to ilabs@impetus.co.in.