

Ashlyn Smith Senior Manager,

Research and Evaluation, Special Olympics International

Ashlyn Smith is Senior Manager of Research and Evaluation at Special Olympics. She has a primary role in the evaluation of both health and non-health programs including Unified Champion Schools, Young Athletes, and global youth engagement activities. She also supports strategic planning and agendasetting for the larger research and evaluation team. She has over 10 years of experience conducting research with individuals with disabilities and their families in both academic and non-profit settings. She earned her Ph.D. from Georgia State University and her BA from the University of North CarolinaChapel Hill. Her graduate and post-doctoral research was focused on how parents and siblings experience having a child with a disability.