Directorate of Outcome Outcome Report (Event/Activity Organized @ AUH)

1. General Information

Date: 16/06/2021 to 22/06/2021

Event Type: Workshop

Event Title: Workshop on UPLC and Spectroscopy

Venue: Online; via Cisco WebEx

Organized by (School): Amity Institute of Biotechnology

Student Participation*: No. of Students from AUH (Course wise):- 70

Faculty Participation*: No. of Faculty Members from AUH (Deptt. wise):- 18 & 5 technical staffs Participation from outside AUH*: No. of Students & Faculty Members- 01

(Enclose attendance sheets in given format)

Event Coordinator(s) with designation: Dr. Krishna Murari Sinha (Associate Prof.), Dr. Nitai Debnath (Associate Prof.), Dr. Ranjita Ghosh Moulick (Assistant Prof.) and Dr. Atanu Banerjee (Assistant Prof.), AlB

d) Collaboration for Funded Projects	Tangible	Proposed	2022	Agilent technologies presented opportunities for academia-industry collaborative projects
3. Outcome related to Society Outr	each		1
a) Benefit to society in terms of Health & Hygiene
b) Benefit to society in terms of Education	Tangible	Achieved		Students were trained in highly important tools and techniques

4. Outcome related to Students Learning & Grooming

The students were introduced to the state-of the art spectroscopy and UPLC equipments. The speakers provided ample information about the functioning and applications for these instruments. With a future hands-on training session, the students will be well equipped to handle these instruments on their own. Further, the scientists from academia made the students were made well versed with the diverse applications of the techniques.

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

16th June:

Basics of spectroscopy tools

Mr. Partha Sen, Agilent Technologies

17th June:

Spectroscopic characterization of the photoreceptors and its application in optobiotechnology

Prof. Suneel Kateriya, Jawaharlal Nehru University

18th June:

Liquid Chromatography & Mass Spectrometry: An overview

Mr. Jitesh Thakur and Mr. Hitesh Shrimal, Waters India

21st June:

Advancements in UPLC Technology

Mr. Jay Kumar, Waters India

22nd June:

Transient Absorption Microscopy: Visualizing Charge Carriers on Ultrafast

Timescale at Nanometer Lengthscale

Dr. Sachin Dev Verma, Assistant Prof. IISER, Bhopal

3.2 Objectives of the Event

- 1. To introduce students and faculties to the state-of the art spectroscopy and UPLC equipments.
- 2. To make them well versed with the functioning and applications of the techniques.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

The workshop had three components:

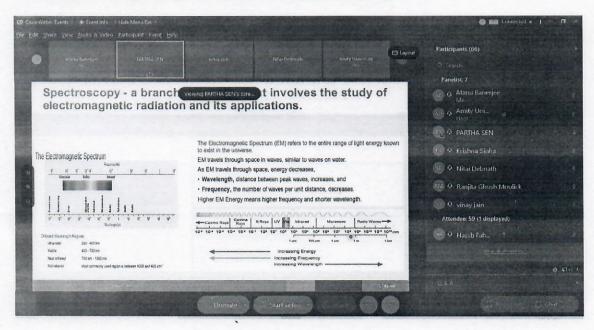

- Introduction to liquid chromatography technology by personnel from Waters India, the pioneer of UPLC technology India. Besides introducing to the basic fundamentals behind liquid chromatography and mass-spec technology, they provided an exhaustive overview of the UPLC system installed at the CIRF. The application scientists from Waters also provided insights into the applications of LC technology as well as the software system on which the UPLC system is built on. Waters India agreed to provide Hands-on training sessions when the university reopens.
- The Spectroscopy component of the workshop included introduction to the fundamentals of spectroscopy techniques including, UV-VIS, Fluorescence, FT-IR, NIR spectroscopy as well as its applications by scientist from Agilent technologies, the global leaders in the development of spectroscopy instruments. The speaker introduced participants to the working principle of all the instruments. The company agreed to provide Hands-on training sessions with all the Agilent spectroscopy equipments housed at the CIRF when the university reopens.
- From the academia, two prominent scientists, Dr. Suneel Kateriya of School of Biotechnology, JNU and Dr. Sachin Dev Verma, IISER Bhopal provided a comprehensive overview of their research which is based on high-end spectroscopy. While Dr. Suneel applies the spectroscopic concepts in optogenetics and optobiotechnology, President introduced a very new kind of microscopic/spectroscopic technique called pump probe spectroscopy and demonstrated its applications in semiconductor technology, photovoltaics and biology field as well.

1. What was the Inspiration behind taking up this Particular Subject for the Webinar?

This was a FIVE DAY workshop organized by Amity Institute of Biotechnology (AIB), Amity Institute of Integrative Sciences & Health (AIISH) and Central Instrument Research Facility (CIRF), AUH. This workshop was organized to virtually train the participants on the basic science and application of UPLC and spectroscopy (specifically UV Vis, Fluorescence and FTIR spectroscopy). This workshop was of immense importance for the researchers working in biological science, material science or engineering as spectroscopy and UPLC play important role in analysis of molecular interaction.

- Who were the Distinguished Guest Speakers Invited for the Event. Kindly give their Names.
 Designations, Organisation, Qualifications, Area of Expertise and any Honours and Awards received by them.
 - Mr. Partha Sen, Product Specialist Spectroscopy, Agilent Technologies, India
 - Prof. Suneel Kateriya, Professor, School of Biotechnology, Jawaharlal Nehru University Postdoctoral Training
 - 2005-2007, Department of Pharmacology, Columbia University, NY, USA, Postdoctoral Fellow, Role of Cardiac Sodium Channel in Long QT Syndrome-Research
 - 2004-2005, Institute of Biophysics, Humboldt University, Germany, Postdoctoral Fellow, Study functional role of sensory rhodopsins of C. reinhardtii
 Doctoral Study
 - 2000-2004, Institute for Biochemistry, University of Regensburg, Germany Awards
 - · Indian Science Congress Young Scientist Award in New Biology Section for 2009
 - Indian Biophysical Society Ratna Phadke Young Scientist Award for 2010
 - Association of Microbiologist of India Young Scientist Award for 2011
 - Innovative Young Biotechnologist Award -IYBA-2016, DBT, Govt. of India
 - Max Planck Visiting Fellowship (2012-2016) from Department of Science and Technology-India and Max Planck Group-Germany
 - EMBO-Travel Award-2016
 - Max-Planck Alumni Travel Award-2017
 - Max-Planck Alumni Travel Award-2019
 - Mr. Jitesh Thakur, Sr. Product Specialist (Sales), Waters India
 - Mr. Hitesh Shrimal, Assistant Manager-Applications, Waters India
 - Mr. Jay Kumar, Asst Manager Service, Waters India
 - Dr. Sachin Dev Verma, Assistant Prof. IISER, Bhopal

Professional achievement

Marie Skłodowska-Curie Fellow (2017-2019) - Cavendish Laboratory, University of Cambridge, UK with Dr. Akshay Rao.

Postdoctoral Scholar (2016 -2017) - Department of Chemistry, University of California, Irvine, USA with Prof. Nien-Hui Ge.

Postdoctoral Fellow (2013-2016) - Department of Chemistry and Registralitry, University of South Carolina, USA with Prof. Mark Berg.

3. What was the Criteria Considered for inviting the Various Individual Guests, Internal as well as External Experts?

As this workshop was organized to train the participants on the basic science and application of UPLC and spectroscopy, experts from both academia and industry were invited as speakers. Industry experts from Waters and Agilent India were invited to share the latest advancements in the spectroscopy and UPLC instrumentation. Dr. Suneel Kateriya, delivered a wonderful lecture on Spectroscopic characterization of the photoreceptors and its application in optobiotechnology. Dr. Sachin Verma of IISER, Bhopal introduced a very new kind of microscopic/spectroscopic technique called pump probe spectroscopy and demonstrated its applications in semiconductor technology, photovoltaics and biology field as well Transient Absorption Microscopy.

4. Were the guests in advance and if yes, from what previous interaction? Were the guests Recommended by someone. If yes, who?

Experts from Agilent and Waters, India were already known to us as CIRF at AUH has already procured UPLC and spectroscopy instruments. Prof. Suneel Kateriya of School of Biotechnology, JNU was known to our colleague Dr. Ranjita Ghosh Moulick. Dr. Ghosh Moulick was earlier working at SBT, JNU. Dr. Sachin Verma of IISER, Bhopal was known to Dr. Atanu Banerjee of AIB, AUH as both them worked with Dr. Sobhan Sen of School of Physical Sciences, JNU.

5. Who all attended the webinar? Also, if possible, give the numbers.

Students from Bachelor and Master's degree, faculty members from AIB, ASAS etc. and technical staffs of CIRF, AUH attended the workshop (Attendance list is attached).

- 6. What were the 'Take Homes' for the Guests and the Attendees in the form of knowledge, facts, information etc.? Please give the Salient Novel Points Covered by the Guest Speakers, in Bullet Points Format.
 - The attendees learnt about the insights of the applications of LC technology as well as the software system on which the UPLC system is built on.
 - The fundamentals of spectroscopy techniques including, UV-VIS, Fluorescence, FT-IR, NIR spectroscopy as well as its applications were explained to the attendees.
 - Dr. Suneel Kateriya, delivered a lecture on spectroscopic characterization of the photoreceptors and its application in optobiotechnology.
 - Dr. Sachin Verma introduced a very new kind of microscopic/spectroscopic technique called pump probe spectroscopy and demonstrated its applications in semiconductor technology, photovoltaics and biology field as well Transient Absorption Microscopy
 - The application scientists from Waters also provided insights into the applications of LC technology as well as the software system on which the UPLC system is built on. Waters India agreed to provide Hands-on training sessions when the university reopens.
 - The Spectroscopy component of the workshop included introduction to the fundamentals of spectroscopy techniques including, UV-VIS, Fluorescence, FT-IR, NIR spectroscopy as well as its applications by scientist from Agilent technologies, the global leaders in the development of spectroscopy instruments. The speaker introduced participants to the working principle of all the instruments. The company agreed to provide Hands-on training sessions with all the Agilent spectroscopy equipments housed at the CIRF when the university reopens.
- 7. Has the Webinar been able to generate any Tangible Gains for the Faculty, Researchers and Students of Amity. If yes, what are these?
 - Waters India agreed to provide Hands-on training sessions when the university reopens.
 - Agilent Technologies also promised the same.

8. Have we Followed-Up with the Guests to consider Various Collaborations such as Joint Research Papers and Publications; Joint Funded Projects; Student Internships and Placements; Participation in National/International Seminars/ Conferences,/Workshops; Student/Faculty Exchange Programmes; Post Doctorate tie ups; etc. etc.

We have plan to make a centre of excellence with both Agilent and Waters, India. There students from both Bachelor and master's degree will be trained in chromatography and spectroscopic techniques on payment basis. Thus, our Biotechnology students will become industry ready.

9. What are the plans for utilizing the contacts developed with the Invited Guests, for future cooperation to meet the targets of 'Mission: Connect' and Mission: Synergy of Brains? Please give a roadmap with timelines.

To make our students industry ready a centre of excellence is planned with Agilent and Waters. There students will be trained in basic and advanced aspects of spectroscopy and chromatography techniques. Moreover, when the pandemic condition will be improved such workshop will be organized in offline mode so that all the participants will have hands on training. This will also generate revenue for our CIRF.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

This was a one day Online Workshop focused on Writing Skills in Architecture and Planning and scheduled on 18th June, 2021. This workshop was having multiple sessions. Dr. Ila Gupta, Director Amity School of Architecture and Planning as well as Ar. Apurva Bose Dutta, an award-winning architectural Journalist, Writer and Editor were the esteemed Speakers. Amiskyline vol-2 was also another discussion agenda during the Workshop.

3.2 Objectives of the Event

- To familiarise students with writings skills required in Architecture and Planning Profession.
- To discuss and improve draft Amiskyline, vol-2.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

- Dr. Ila Gupta, Director Amity School of Architecture and Planning, Gurugram addressed the participants and shared her knowledgeable words on writing skills required in the profession of Architecture and Planning. She also talked about the significance of writing skills in this specific domain and mentioned the tricks to learn as well as gradually excel in this skill.
- Ar. Apurva Bose Dutta, an author, award-winning architectural Journalist, Curator, and Editor who has more than sixteen years of professional experience in architecture writing has delivered very informatorily talk on Writing Skills in architecture and planning on 18th June. She shared her own journey from a Chandigarh Collage of Architecture (CCA) student to become a successful writer in the domain of architecture. This gave an encouragement and inspiration to students. She also discussed about her international (writing) experiences and collaborations with various institutions in the countries of UK, the US, Spain, Italy, Indonesia, Singapore, Karachi,

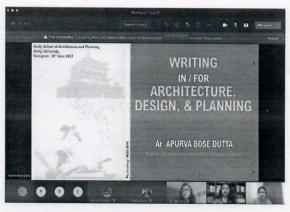

Canada, and India. She gave glimpses of her book - ARCHITECTURAL VOICES OF INDIA: A Blend of Contemporary and Traditional Ethos published by Cambridge Scholars Publishing, UK in 2017.

 In third phase of the workshop, there remained a discussion on departmental newsletter Amiskyline 2020 and the draft of Amiskyline vol-2 2021. There was a demonstration of entries received so far for the upcoming issue. Faculties and students provided their suggestions for improving the draft.

11 3G I

Yesterday morning, I had the pleasure to be invited for a session in the Workshop on Writin Skills for Architecture and Planning com ucted the Amity School of Architecture and Pilanning Gurgaon, AMITY University Gurgaon.

I am delighted that the institution had taken the initiative to organise this for its students and faculty members. Literary endeavours is, ich as these by institutions will go a long way is establishing #writing as a potent tool for #architecture, #design, and #planning

Extremely grateful to Dr lla Gupta (lla Joshi Gupta) for the invitation to be a part of this workshop. Thank you, Kumud Dhanwar tri, fo the warm welcome.

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

This was a three-days Online Workshop focused on Urban Renewal and Conservation scheduled between 1st July-3rd July 2021. This workshop has an expert lecture by Ar. Abhishek Jain who is an Urban regeneration expert based in Delhi and student activity session on day-1, day-2 is also student activity sessions and students presented their works on day three. It aims to introduce students to the quality of urban design - creates safe, attractive and secure pathways and links between centres, landmarks and neighbourhoods, facilitates green networks that link public and private open space, places a high priority on walking, cycling and public transport. Furthermore, it also focuses on the integration of urban heritage into planning process. During the workshop students worked on the renewal design of 'Chandni Chowk Street' 1.3 kms stretch in Old Delhi and submitted their works as per the given day-wise schedule.

3.2 Objectives of the Event

- To assess the urban renewal/redevelopment approaches at old city and historical sites in the context of having better access to services and sustainable urban development.
- To work on a renewal project on the given site i.e. Chandni Chowk street, Old Delhi.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

Ar. Abhishek Jain interacted with the students on various dimensions of Urban Renewal and Conservation and he also demonstrated various examples of urban renewal in many Indian cities. He explained various case studies and related cultural fabric in the planning of Indian historic old cities. differentiated between various similar works like – regeneration, renewal, re-development, restoration, revitalization, re-densification, resettlement, rehabilitation, land-recycling (in-fill development) etc. He also added the significance of mixed land use in Indian old cities. He also explained urban renewal refers to a set of plans and activities to upgrade old cities and neighborhoods which are in state of distress or decay or in degraded condition. Urban renewal programs address the physical aspects of urban decay. Urban Renewal functionally works because it stimulates a cycle of investments by removing the blighted conditions that act as a barrier to new development. He integrates Urban renewal with urban heritage, cultural values and urban design. He also thrown a light on the Conservative surgery and Diagnostic Survey.

AAKANKSHA GOSWAMI Yesterday 4:51 pm

Thank you for this informative experience. Workshop was really good and it's always a good venture to know about old historical integration with urban fabric in today's world from AR. Abhishek Sir.

KAPIL BALMIKI Vesterday 4:59 pm

Thank You Ila ma'am, and Kumud Ma'am for organizing an interactive and informative session for us. It was a good experience for us to interact with Abhishek Sir as he shared his practical knowledge and experiences of the field.

VAISHALI Yesterday 5:02 pm

Thank you our respected DirectorDr. Ila Gupta ma'am, Kumud Dhanwantri ma'am & Geetika Verma ma'am for arranging and inviting such Learned and experienced people for the workshops.

Thank You Abhishek Sir for such an Enlightening, conceptual and knowledgeable session on Urban Renewal, other R's for the fabric and conservation surgery theory. Looking forward to have the opportunity to work with you on the social projects which really kindle my heart.

Hoping to have many more such wonderful workshops.

Thank you Amity University.

JITESH KUMAR Yesterday 6:00 pm

Thank you Dr.lla ma'am and Kumud ma'am for organizing such an informative session for us . Thank you Abhishek sir for sharing your practical experience and guiding us

SHAHRUKH Yesterday 10:45 pm

Thank You all the faculty members for organizing such an amazing session for us. It was so interesting and the experience Abhishek Sir shared was so informative .

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

The event organised to learn the new techniquein the field of latest and advanced analytical instrument. Dr. Gargi Bagchi introduced the application scientist to the faculty, students and Research scholars. Central Instrument Research Facility (CIRF) has been newly established at Amity University, Haryana in 2019, The CIRF provides a central facility of latest and advanced analytical instrument for research and for promoting interdisciplinary research. Instruments are manned by qualified personnel. This facility is available for Amitians and other academic research institutions. Industries and organizations. Learn about the latest advancements and the potential in the field of flow cytometry at the AUH stalls in multiple events. Also, get hands-on classroom training /workshops.

3.2 Objectives of the Event-

The workshop was conducted to educate students/researchers/industrial trainees regarding general principles of FACS and its applications to experience the comprehensive, qualitative and quantitative profiling of cells analysis and information with high sample throughput using new model of BD FACS. The beginners got a chance to familiarize themselves with FACS technique and gain confidence by observing their applications and data interpretation as done in real experiment. Apart from hands on training, there was seminar by an expert speaker in the field, Dr. Ravi Tandon, Assistant Professor, JNU, who xposed the trainees to his research work. This gave the trainees further insight regarding applications and use of FACS. This Workshop focused on the separation, identification and quantitation of cells by using BD FACS Lyric.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers:-

Dr. Vipin Kumar.

He has over 6 years of experience in the field of Mass Spectrometry. It started with his master's and doctoral project that encompassed the identification of prognostic and diagnostic protein biomarkers for malaria. He has experience of several mass spectrometry techniques such as Q-TOF, MALDITOF/TOF, Triple-TOF, Q-Exactive, Orbitrap, Triple-Quad, etc.

Dr. Deepak Kumar Rathore

Dr. Deepak Kumar Rathore, Senior Research Scientist & In-charge FACS facility
Translational Health Science and Technology Institute. Dr. Deepak has completed his PhD from Jiwaji University, Gwalior, MP. He then moved to National Institute of Immunology to do postdoctoral research. Thereafter he joined Translational Health Science And Technology Institute (THTSI) as Scientific officer and currently he is working there as Senior research scientist.

His Research interests include: Comprehensive Immunophenotyping in Healthy Individuals vs Disease Conditions. Understanding the problem of low-birth-weight neonates born with full gestational age.

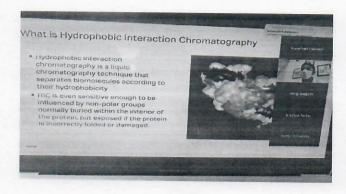

Dr.Ravi Tandon

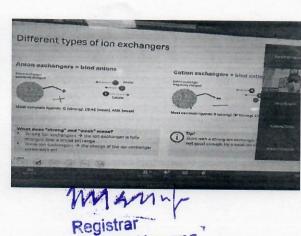

Dr. Ravi Tandon earned his Ph.D from University of Zürich, Zürich, Switzerland (2002-2008) after which he obtained postdoctoral training from University of California, San Francisco USA (2008-2011). He worked as an Immunology Staff Scientist at Hawaii Center for AIDS, University of Hawaii, Honolulu, HI USA May (2011-2014) before joining SBT, JNU as an Assistant Professor in 2014. He has diverse research interests in areas including HIV immunology, Gut microbiology, Mucosal immunity and inflammation, Ageing and Immunity. He has two patents and has been awarded Young Scientist Award by Association of Microbiologists of India in 2015 (December 7-10, 2015).

Dr. Vinay Gupta

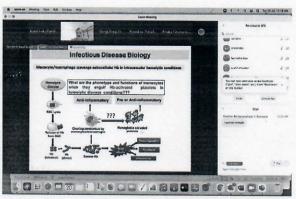

Vinay Gupta is skilled in: Flow Cytometry, Biotechnology, Lifesciences, Immunoassays, Assay Development, Cell, Immunology, Animal Models, Molecular Biology, ELISA, Microbiology, Cell Culture, Cell Biology, Protein Expression, Protein Purification, Western Blotting.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

The three days event on National Workshop on Material Characterization Techniques organised by Amity School of Applied Sciences, AUH during 3-5 August 2021 held in online platform- Zoom witnessed participation from amongst students and teachers alike. The participants were mostly research scholars and masters students of AUH.

3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event

The fascinating and ever-growing world of materials is very vast. Different tools are needed to be used for the complete characterisation of such materials, which involve phase analysis, compositional characterisation, size of materials and surface characteristics etc. The objective of this workshop is to impart basic and practical knowledge of the advanced tools used for material characterisation to the research scholars, teachers, scientists and to discuss, analyse and acquire experimental knowledge in the area of Material Characterization using Dynamic Light Scattering, Thermogravimetric Analysis-Differential Scanning Calorimetry and UV VIS Spectroscopic Techniques

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

The three-day event had various sessions of presentation and demonstration from six speakers of Amity School of Applied Sciences department namely, Dr. Sudip Majumder, Dr. Chander Shekhar, Dr. Dipti Vaya, Dr. Anurag Sharma, Dr. CM Srivastava and Dr. Manish Shandilya. Each session was of one hour followed by five minutes Q/A session. At the end of the three days event, students and participants gained knowledge on working of instruments like Dynamic Light Scattering and zeta potential, Thermogravimentry and UV –Visible spectrophotometer and their applications in the various fields of science.

- 3.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees: Acquisition of skills in the use and selection of advanced experimental techniques for characterization of materials and application of these techniques to solving problems in materials science.
- 3.5 Future plan for utilizing the contacts developed with the Invited Guests: NA
- 3.6 Budget of the Event :NA
- 3.7 Photographs with caption (also share high resolution JPEG files of photographs)
- 3.8 Scanned copy of attendance sheets: Attached
- 3.9 Few Scanned feedback forms of participants: Attached

DAY 1: National Workshop on Material Characterization Techniques

The first day session began at 10:20 AM with welcome address from Prof. A.K.Yadav, Director, ASAS, AUH, followed by first session by Dr. Sudip Majumder on the topic 'Theory of Dynamic Light Scattering and zeta potential'. The session was very interesting and knowledgeable. Students had got their doubts cleared at the end of the session which lasted for one hour.

Pic- 2: Dr. Sudip Majumder delivering his lecture on Dynamic Light Scattering

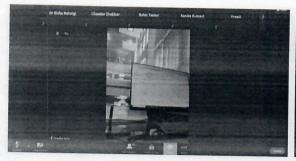

The second session of first day was presented by Dr. Anurag Sharma on the topic 'Application of Dynamic Light Scattering and zeta potential' for one hour, followed by question/answers before the meet was adjourned for lunch break.

Pic-3: Dr. Anurag Sharma delivering his lecture on Application of Dynamic Light Scattering and Zeta potential

Third and last session of Day-1 was also given online by Dr. Sudip Majumder on hands-on demonstration of working and application of Dynamic Light Scattering and zeta potential instruments at Central Instruments Research Facility at A-Block, AUH campus.

DAY 2: National Workshop on Material Characterization Techniques

The second day of the three-days national workshop on material characterization techniques was stated with lecture by Dr. Chander Shekhar on the topic 'Introduction to DSC and its applications'. The lecture was very invigorating and kept students interested throughout. The session ended with Q/A session in one hour, followed by a small break of fifteen minutes.

Pic -5: Dr. Chander Shekhar presenting working of Differential Scanning Calorimetry

The second session was delivered by Dr. CM Srivastava on the topic 'Introduction to Thermogravimetry and its application in material research'. The session began at 12:45 and lasted for an hour. The students and participants gained knowledge in the field of instrumentation and analytical techniques.

Session 3 of the 2nd day of workshop started with the formal welcome address by Dr. Anuraag Sharma. Resource persons for this workshop were Dr. Chander Shekhar and Dr. C. M. Srivastava.

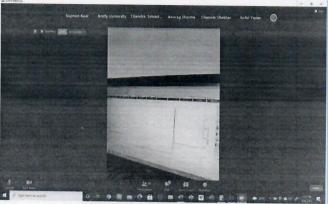

MA LANN Registrar In the previous sessions, they had explained the theorical aspect of DSC and 1GA instruments and discussed about its various features and applications. In this session they gave live demonstration of this instruments with the help of PhD scholars.

Dr. Shekhar elaborated about the technical features of PerkinElmer Simultaneous Thermal Analyzers the STA 6000 system. This instrument is equipped with sensor technology which measures both sample and reference temperatures to ensure high precision and accuracy. Combined with the compact furnace, it delivers precise temperature control with fast heat-up, cool-down and rapid stabilization. It has capability to acquire both TGA and DTA/DSC measurements simultaneously i.e. it simultaneously measures both heat flow and weight changes in a material as a function of temperature or time in a controlled atmosphere. The complimentary information obtained allows differentiation between endothermic and exothermic events which have no associated weight loss (e.g., melting and crystallization) and those which involve a weight loss (e.g., degradation). He also discussed about the specifications of the instrument. He emphasized on the importance of calibration of the instrument before every run and gave a live demonstration of the same. He chose a polymer sample to perform the demonstration.

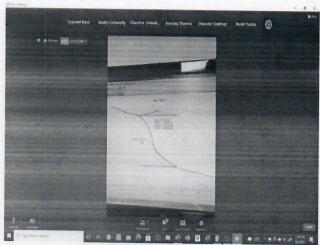

Pic-7: Dr. Shekhar Discussing about the technical features of the instrument.

He explained in details how to run the software, what precautions are needed to be taken care while running this instrument. Once the run for the polymer sample was over, he explained how to import data, how to plot graph and how to rescale the axis of the graph. He also explained about how to interpretate the results. Further, he ran the scan for another sample, alumina, and discussed the results obtained in details

Pic- 8: Result interpretation

Overall, it was a very interesting and fruitful sessions and audience equally showed their interested and asked their queries which were answered by the resource persons of the session.

DAY 3: National Workshop on Material Characterization Techniques

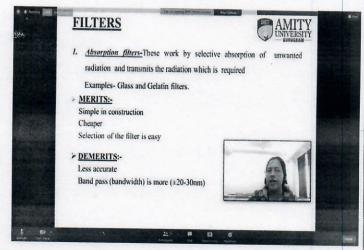

Session I of the 3rd day of the workshop started at 10:00 AM with formal introduction of resource persons for the day, Dr. Dipti Vaya and Dr. Manish Shandilya by Dr. Anuraag Sharma. Dr. Dipti Vaya discussed about 'Theory of UV-Vis Spectroscopy'. Ultraviolet-visible (UV-vis) spectroscopy is used to obtain the absorbance spectra of a compound in solution or as a solid. She explained what is actually being observed spectroscopically is the absorbance of light energy or electromagnetic radiation, which excites electrons from the ground state to the first singlet excited state of the compound or material. The UV-vis region of energy for the electromagnetic spectrum covers 1.5 - 6.2 eV which relates to a wavelength range of 800 - 200 nm. She also discussed about the Beer-Lambert Law, which is the principle behind absorbance spectroscopy followed by the details of instrument part. UV visible spectrometer has a light source (usually a deuterium or tungsten lamp), a sample holder and a detector, but some have a filter for selecting one wavelength at a time.

Dr. Dipti discussed types of electronic transitions involved in UV-Vis. Even the effect of solvent and particle size was discussed. The hyperchromic, hypochromic, hypsochromic and bathochromic shifts were explained. Each and every component of spectrophotometer was discussed and the specific conditions if needed were explained. Students learnt the difference between single beam and double beam UV-vis spectrophotometer. She explained that not only liquid sample can be studies by using UV-vis. spectrophotometer but also solid samples can also studied via diffusion reflectance spectroscopy (DRS). She discussed how to analyze the data with the use of Kubelka Munk Equation for band gap determination. Applications of UV-Visible spectroscopy were discussed in detail in the next lecture by Dr. Manish Shandilya. He he explained how UV Visible spectroscopy helps in characterization of samples weather it is protein or DNA. The quantitative determination of different analytes which may be transition metal ions, conjugate organic compounds or biological macromolecules were also discussed. Various other applications of UV-Visible spectroscopy were discussed and queries of the participants were addressed.

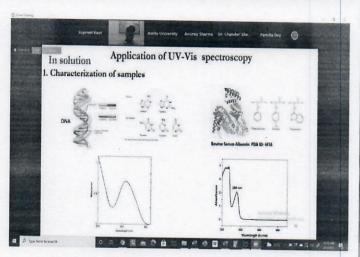

The last session of the workshop started at 1 PM with the live demonstration of operation of UV Visible spectrometer (Lambda 365 PerkinElmer) by Dr. Dipti Vaya and Dr. Manish Shandilya. This instrument includes the liquid assembly and solid assembly for the characterization of liquid and solid sample respectively. Dr. Vaya demonstrated the operation of spectrometer for a dye. She explained the use of the software, calibration, necessary precautions to be taken care while operating the machine. She also discussed also to plot the data and interpret it. She also demonstrated the use of solid assembly in the machine. Dr. Shandilya showed the procedure to characterize bio macromolecules and how to work with solid samples.

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

The expert talk was organised as a part of Innovation Day 2021 celebrations on September 21, 2021. Prof (Dr) Anubhuti Yadav apprised the students about nuances of storytelling using different digital platforms.

3.2 Objectives of the Event

The event was organised in tune with the spirit of celebrating innovation during the Innovation Week 2021. It aimed at apprising the budding media professionals about the new and innovative trends in storytelling using different digital platforms.

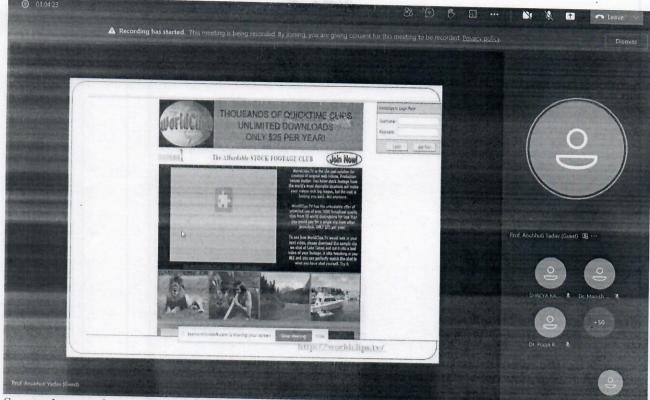

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

The expert talk delivered by Prof (Dr) Anubhuti Yadav encompassed different aspects of storytelling on digital platforms. She emphasised that each digital platform like Facebook, Instagram, Twitter etc have their unique characteristics and thus the storytelling format for different digital platforms is unique. She shared that while creating content for digital media one must remember that people prefer active engagement with the content. Prof Yadav encouraged the students to think innovatively and imaginatively. She asked the students to learn at least 50 different tools to be able to tell their stories in an interesting and impactful manner. Dr Yadav also discussed different types of digital stories citing examples.

To: Dr. Pooja Rana

I am writing to give feedback on the event which was held on 21st September 2021. I am so amazed by the intelligence we received from Prof.(Dr.) Anubhuti Yadav, the way she told us about everything was so appealing to me I felt proud to be an Amitian. The session was quite informative and astonishing. Also to mention the questioning round was very interactive and assuring.

Thank you so very much, ma'am, to you and all the respective organisers. I would be waiting for more such sessions.

To: Dr. Pooja Rana

Respected ma'am,

Anubuthy Yadav ma'am's talk on "Digital Storytelling" was very informative, knowledgeable and a much necessary motivation for our growing minds. The content she spoke, was well relatable and admirable. Her experienced talk gave us a clarity of how a media person's life would be and how prepared, confident, and energetic we should be to face them. Her unbiased opinions, to the point answers and optimistical approach lifted our confidence leading us to a right track.

She started off by defining the terms related to Mass Media such as Journalism, story writing, advertising, and PR. As taught to us by elders, guides and well-wishers, everything in this world is related to some or other way. By her talk, she informed us how co-related the media industry is. Her talk with a beautiful smile has bought a very big impact to us personally and professionally.

This life, that everybody is leading in this world has never been easy and it isn't going to be easy either. But Her talk didn't even have any shade of negative vibes or showcased her hardships, it was filled with motivation, positivity, and kindness. Overall, Her talk was a power-packed, a completely woven talk. It was a privilege for us, MAJMC 1st semester students to listen to her, get ideas and get benefitted from them.

Thank you so much ma'am for the opportunity to listen to a well privileged and decorated speaker.

3.1. General Introduction of the Event:

Intellectual property rights (IPR) are the rights given to persons over the creations of their minds: inventions, literary and artistic works, and symbols, names and images used in commerce.

In today's event, our honourable guest- Dr. Rahul Taneja gave an informative talk on the topic "Innovation and IPRs." Dr Rahul Taneja is a Scientist at Patent Information Centre, Intellectual Property Facilitation Center for MSMEs, Haryana State Council for Science and Technology, Department of Science and Technology, Government of Haryana.

3.2. Objectives of the Event:

The purpose of this event was to introduce Intellectual Property Rights and its roles. To answer questions like Why do we need to file patents? where does our nation stands in terms of IPR and what is the global status of IPR?

3.3. Brief about the address/talk of speakers:

The event begin by the address of our honourable HOI- Dr Rajendra Prasad. Dr Jinny Tomar ingeniously introduced our speaker, Dr Rahul Taneja Scientist at Patent Information Centre, Intellectual Property Facilitation Center for MSMEs, Haryana State Council for Science and Technology, Department of Science and Technology, Government of Haryana Canada C

Registrar

Dr Rahul Taneja is meticulous man and a proficient expert in his field. Sir, effortlessly explained the topic of "Intellectual Property Rights". His speech highlighted the vulnerable status of India in terms of patent applications filed. From the need of IPRs to the exclusively easy steps to file a patent application, todays talk had it all. Sir showed us some data and highlighted where is our country lacking.

Followed by an incisive instruction of National Policies; Dr. Rahul Taneja inspired students to file patents.

During the QnA session, multiple topics were tackled. Popular motoslike "Make in India- Made by India"; "Start-up India- Stand- up India" were used by our guest speaker and faculty team to motivate students. Innovation is not limited by Age.

The meeting ended on a positive note and with a subsequent hope to meet again for a different session and topic.

The Innovation Day is conducted every year on the occasion of the birthday of our Chancellor sir Dr. Aseem Chauhan. The event was conducted for the students of the Amity University, Gurugram to identify their analytical ability, critical thinking and their potential capabilities to start-up a new venture. The event was judged by Mr. Shiv Swaroop Jha, Dr. Nilmani Tripathi and Dr. Ravi Ranjan

PRESENTATION OF THE PARTICIPANTS AND THEIR VISION:

1. Akansha Singh —In this she gave the suggestions for a start-up, the various strategies for the company to be stable in the market, various investment opportunities to the start-up and also how to select the target audience for the start up.

2. Lavika – The presentation had the idea of starting an Advertising Agency as a start-up. In this she gave an idea about the ad-agency, how to start it and what are the benefits of starting an Ad-Agency.

3. Renu Chauhan – The idea of start-up was based on an online restaurant: "Healthy Me". The participant explained the goal of the start-up and the various strategies used to make the business stable in the market among the competitors.

4. Usha Chaudhary - The presentation gave the suggestions to start-ups, various methods to start it and strategies that can be used to be successful.

5. Ibrar Hussain – The idea for start-up was based on a relaxation center to combat growing mental health issues, and so called as "Relaxilla". Further the presentation focused on the various methods that would be used by the company to become successful in the near future.

6. Nikita Jain – The presentation idea was based on the idea of converting rural into urban, by providing a variety of rich organic products to the customers. Also, then she discussed the various strategies that would be used to make the presentation successful.

7. Anurag Pant – The idea focused on the role of starting-up an online In-Tuition, that focused on the various strategies used to improve the condition of the blue and grey collar workers.

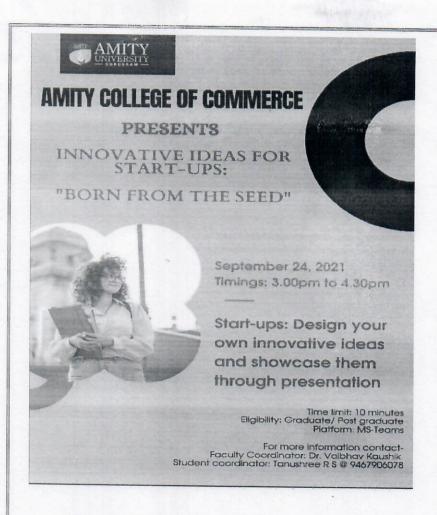

WINNERS:

- 1. FIRST POSITION: Nikita Jain (BA Economic Hons.)
- 2. SECOND POSITION: Anurag Pant (BA Economic Hons.).
- 3. THIRD POSITION: Ibrar Husain of B.com. (H)

Amity University Haryana Manesar Gurgaon-122413

This event was conducted on MS- Teams platform and each student actively participated in the event. The content of the presentation showed up various new and innovative ideas for start-ups, and these ideas were appreciated by the jury members.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

- 3.1 General Introduction of the Event: One day workshop on smart materials was jointly organised by Amity University Haryana, Gurugram and NSYSU, Taiwan on September 29, 2021. The coordinators of the event were Dr. Jyotsna Sharma, Associate Professor, ASAS and Dr. Chander Shekhar, Assistant Professor, ASAS, AUH. At the beginning of the event Director ASAS, Professor A.K. Yadav, gave the welcome address and welcomed all the guests/invited speakers. Prof. Preeti Thakur introduced Prof. Cheng -Hsin Chuang, NSYSU, Taiwan and Dr. Jyotsna Sharma ASAS, AUH introduced Prof. S. K. Sharma, JNU, New Delhi
- 3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event: This event motivates Physics students towards higher education (cutting edge research as a PhD Scholar under fellowship program at prominent international institutions)
- 3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers Professor Cheng -Hsin Chuang delivered a presentation on Biosensors and wearable Medical devices for precision health followed by lab session. Prof. S.K. Sharma talked about Application of UV-VIS spectroscopy for material characterizations followed by hands on experience of the instrument. Dr. Neelam Kumari delivered a talk on Precision thin film coatings for demanding optical applications and shown the working of the instrument.
- 3.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees The attendees and guests understood the fundamentals of smart material and their applications through the online lectures. The experimental demo provided very significant insight towards smart material
- 3.5 Future plan for utilizing the contacts developed with the Invited Guests
 It is planned to do more such collaborative events like conferences/workshops etc in the future

Introduction

Optical coating

One or more thin layers of material deposited on an optical component such as a lens or mirror, which alters the way in which they reflect and transmit light.

The main purpose of the thin film optical coatings on an optical surface is to modify it, to improve the optical performance.

- ☐ Antireflection coating, reduces unwanted reflections from surfaces
- ☐ High-reflector coating used to produce mirrors for reflecting greater than 99.99% of the light □
- Complex optical coatings exhibiting high reflection over some range of wavelengths, and anti-reflection over another range

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

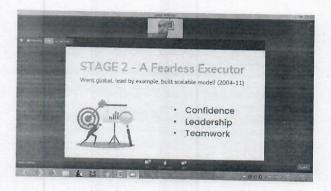

- The interactive session of Amity's Innovation Council session with Mr. Ashish Mehta the founder and CEO of EEDGE.AI on practical insights into entrepreneurship development trajectories; begin with introductory speech by Dr. Vikas Madhukar, Dy PVC, AUH and Dr. Ranjana Kothari, Faculty Coordinator, Innovation Council.
- Mr. Ashish Mehta through the session has explained in detail with practical insights into the initiation, working and successful scaling up of entrepreneurship development. He narrated the entrepreneurship develops through three distinct stages of Learning, Execution and Innovation, Creative infusion. He emphasised the usage of Focus, Inquisitiveness, Leadership, Teamwork and Problem solving; for enterprise development citing his personal experiences; which certainly will help students taking right decisions concerning suitable placements and summer internship projects particularly in start ups.
- Mr. Mehta emphasised that dealing with uncertainty is essential feature of entrepreneurship development, here belief system leads to creativity and innovative solutions to problems, he maintained that seeking management consultancy in these situations is desired. Answering the queries of students, Mr. Mehta emphasised that usance of his developed website eedge ai would be helpful in identifying the exact gaps in entrepreneurship development and seeking the solutions through appropriate consultancy also.
- The session is concluded successfully with thanksgiving note by Dr. Ranjana Kothari, Faculty Coordinator, Amity Innovation Council and final notes by Mr.

Manoj Sahani, Director, CRC and above all by Dr. Vikas Madhukar, Dy. PVC, AUH.

General Introduction of the Event:

Amity School of Earth and Environmental Sciences (ASEES), Amity University Haryana along with Institute Innovation Council (IICs), takes the opportunity to celebrate National Pollution Control Day on 2 December 2021 by organizing an online webinar and panel discussion with eminent Keynote Speaker Dr. B K Sahu, Regional Manager & Head, NRDC - Intellectual Property and Innovation Centre, Innovation Valley, Vishakhapatnam, GoI on the "Topic: Innovation Strategy for Universities to Create Opportunities of Entrepreneurship in Mitigating Environmental Issues".

3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event:

- To inspire young minds and ignite the spark of research and innovation in emerging scientists, faculty and students on the occasion of National Pollution Control Day.
- To explore opportunities for self employment and inculcate the spirit among students in their quest to achieve success.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers:

- Prof. Dr. I.S Thakur welcomed Hon'ble Key Note Speaker, Dr. B K Sahu, Regional Manager & Head, NRDC for managing and sparing his precious time for this informative Webinar. He also welcomed all the esteemed HOD's, HOI's and faculty members as well as the students for their active participation in the event.
- Dr. Kushagra Rajendra, HOD, Amity School of Earth & Environmental Sciences, gave the opening remarks of the Webinar. He stated that humans should us fu methods to connect with the environment in a sustainable and eco-friendly manner. Amity University Haryana

He gave an innovative idea of 3P's that is people, plant and Profit and how a profit leads to negative impact on the environment.

Topic: "Innovation Strategy for Universities to Create Opportunities of Entrepreneurship in Mitigating Environmental Issues".

He talked about how it is time for India to lead in the global innovation and move forward. India should collaborate with the other countries which are way ahead in the global innovation index.

He told us how big companies started with nothing but only innovative ideas and now they are successful.

Major Challenges

- Reduce poverty
- > To maintain a standard of living
- > Protect Environment
- > Hunger

He discussed about India's successful map in Innovation.

- Global Goals to attain:
- No Poverty
- No Hunger
- Good health Quality Education
- Gender Equality
- Peace and justice
- > Protect the Planet.

Afterwards he discussed about the paradigm shift towards Innovation.

Innovation is the introduction of new ideas goods, service and practices which are intend to be useful.

- Development of new technology
- > Refinement of existing technology
- Development of new application for existing technology.

India's successful leap in innovation:

- > Among the 10 economies in Central and Central Southern Asia
- > Among the 34 economies in lower middle income group
- > Among the 132 economies featured in the GII 2021.

Furthermore, he talked about the role of IPM and Innovation Centre in Academia which included points such as:

- Review and monitor: Publications, student thesis, books by faculty
- Research Projects
- Establish IP Policy
- > Scout for R&D collaborations
- Facilitate technology transfer
- Manage IP Portfolio
- > Incubation

These discussions lead towards IPR opportunities for MSME's & start-ups.

Objective is to enhance awareness of MSME about Intellectual Property Rights to create measures for the protection of their ideas and business strategies.

Dr. Sahu also discussed about the future of IPR's in India by throwing light upon IPR benefits including stringer enforcement and convincing Indians that National interest will not be compromised.

Future of MSME in India: The MSME sector can help for achieving the target of Nation Manufacturing Policy that manufacturing should contribute to 25% in India's GDP by 2022.

He further shared that India is focusing on experience-based learning; we a

The session came to end by discussion on an important point, i.e., The Balance, wherein he stated that everyone has the right to the protection of the moral and material interests resulting from any scientific, literary or artistic production of which he is the author.

And everyone has the right to share in scientific advancement and its benefits: - Article 27 (Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 1948).

The session then moved towards Q&A session wherein students asked about their doubts and were well answered by our respected Keynote Speaker.

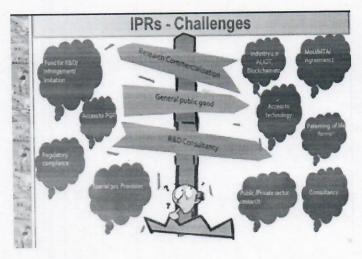

The session then came to an end after Dr. Ranjana Kothar, delivered Vote of Thanks, wherein she thanked our Hon'ble Key Note Speaker, Dr. B K Sahu, Regional Manager & Head, NRDC for managing and sparing his precious time and giving us such informative and wonderful lecture and also interaction with students and motivating them to become innovative entrepreneurs. She also thanked all the esteemed HOD's, HOI's and faculty members as well as the students who not only attended the event but their active participation made the event a huge success.

Universitas Bengkulu, Indonesia

University Bengkulu, Bengkulu is a public university in Bengkulu, Indonesia. It was established on 24 April 1982. University offers UG and PG courses in 7 different streams. Officially recognized by the Kementerian Riset dan Teknologi/Badan Riset dan Inovasi Nasional, Republik Indonesia.

Amity University Harvana

Amity University Haryana, Gurugram is situated in the picturesque, 110 acre Amity Education Valley, in the close proximity of Gurugram. AUH is built on a foundation which embodies all the qualities that have made Amity institutions world-class over the last two decades. The university has students from more than 15 countries.

CBFS, ASAS, AUH

The Department of Chemistry, Biochemistry & Forensic Science (CBFS) has successfully charted a glorious journey of over 7 years under the aegis of ASAS, AUH. Amity School of Applied Sciences (ASAS) was inaugurated on the occasion of National Science Day on 28 Feb 2013 with a mission of imparting quality teaching and promoting science through research and extension. ASAS strives continually to lay a strong foundation in Applied Sciences and to equip the students of other disciplines to carry out practical applications of their knowledge. Further, the vision is set for carrying out research in emerging areas of societal importance, along with offering degree programs at undergraduate, masters and doctoral level in the relevant subjects of Applied Sciences, including Chemistry, Biochemistry and Forensic Science, Physics, and Mathematics.

17th JANUARY 2022

The session began with the welcome address by Prof A.K. Yadav (HOI, ASAS,AUH). Dr. Jarulis, Dean of Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Science, University of Bengkulu, Indonesia addressed the participants. A brief introduction of speakers: Dr. Sal Prima Yudha (Faculty, University of Bengkulu, Indonesia) and Dr. Mohammad Abid (Jamia Milia Islamia, New Delhi) was given. The session was coordinated by the Moderator Dr. Anurag Sharma and well supported by Prof. Seema R. Pathak (HOD, CBFS, ASAS, AUH) and faculty members of CBFS, ASAS, AUH.

• TOTAL NUMBER OF ACTIVE PARTICIPANTS- 80

Topic: Principal, Working and Application of UV- Visible Spectroscopy and Live Demonstration of UV-Visible Spectrophotometer

Speaker: Dr. Sal Prima Yudha (Faculty, University of Bengkulu, Indonesia)

The day's workshop was split into two parts: a lesson and a live demonstration. The tutorial begins with a fundamental overview of UV-Vis spectroscopy, its application in various fields, and the underlying operating principle. UV-Vis Spectroscopy is non-invasive, cost-effective,

Registrar Amity University Haryana sensitive, and adaptable. The energy of a wave of a particular radiation is calculated by using the relation $E{=}hc/\lambda$ orga nic comp

In

ounds the following electronic transitions can occur by the absorption of ultraviolet and visible light:

σ to σ*

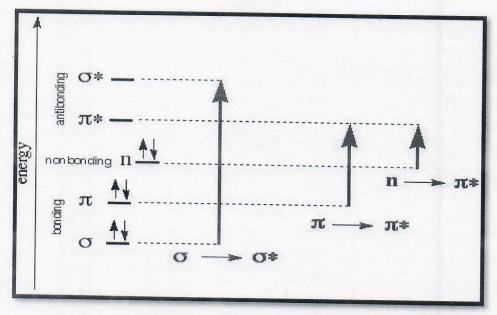

n to σ*

n to π^*

TRANSITION TYPE IN ORGANIC COMPOUNDS

The transitions involved in this kind of transitions are:

- π π * (pi to pi star transition).
- $n \pi^*$ (n to pi star transition).
- σ σ * (sigma to sigma star transition).
- $n \sigma * (n \text{ to sigma star transition})$

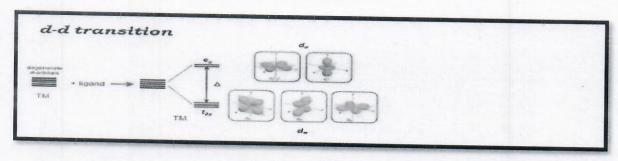

Alkenes, alkynes, carbonyl, nitriles, aromatic compounds, and other compounds with multiple bonds go through the -* transition. e.g.: Alkenes absorb light in the range of 170-205 nm. An electron is promoted from a non-bonding orbital to an anti-bonding orbital. Such transitions occur in compounds with a double bond incorporating hetero atoms (C=O, N=O). The n - * transitions are low-energy transitions that display absorption at longer wavelengths about 300 nm.

The following were the subjects that were discussed in greater depth throughout the session:

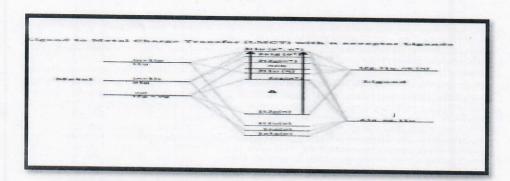

The d-d transition for acceptor – Ligand complex.

The d-d transition for pie acceptor ligand complex is larger than the pie-donor ligand. These transitions generally appear as of weak intensity in the spectrum as they are Laporte forbidden. Due to vibronic coupling and relatively low energy of transition, they can emit visible light upon relaxation and that is the reason for which many transition complexes are brightly colored. The molar extinction coefficients of these transitions around 100.

Ligand to Metal transfer With Acceptor Ligands.

The LMCT transitions arise because of the low lying energy of the ligand orbitals . Therefore this is a transition from orbital that are ligand in character to orbitals that are more metal in character. The electron travels from a bonding or non bonding orbital into anti-bonding orbital. These transitions are very strong and appear very intensely in the absorbance spectrum. The molar extinction coefficients for these transitions are around 10^4 . The examples for pi donor ligands are F^- , H_2O , OH^- , RS^- , NCS^- etc.

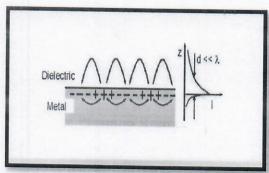

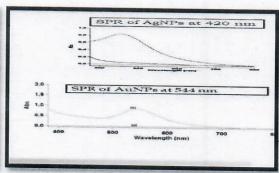

Metal Ligand Charge transfer (MLCT) with pi donor Ligands:

These transitions arise from pi acceptor ligands and metals that are willing to donate electrons into the orbitals of ligand character. Both types of charge transfer bands are more intense than dd bands since they are not Laporte rule forbidden. E.g. of pi accepting ligands are CO, NO, RNC, C=C etc.

Surface Plasmon Resonance (SPR) :

Surface Plasmon Resonance (SPR) is a resonance between light wave and the electrons on a metal surface which generates oscillations the electrons in the metal surface is quantized i.e. wavelength of light is in resonance with Surface Plasmon Oscillation. The requirements for SPR are materials with free electrons (metals such as Cu, Ag, Au) with their plasma frequency in both UV and Visible region and the interface.

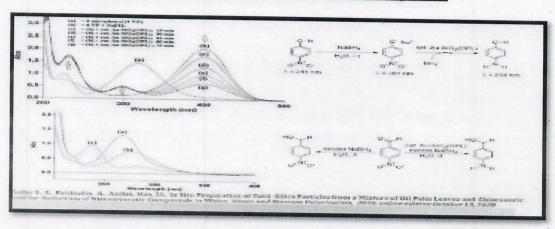

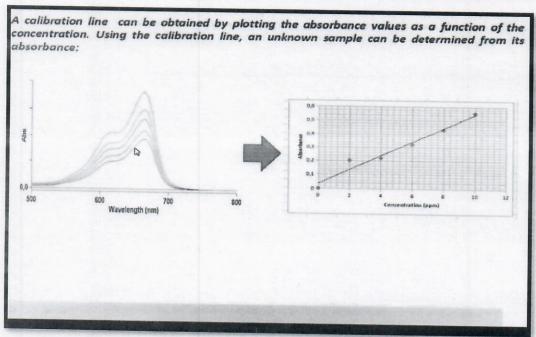

Main principles behind UV-Visible Spectroscopy:

Optical spectroscopy is based on the interaction of light with matter. UV/VIS spectroscopy is a technique based on the absorption of light by an unknown sample. The main principles involved in this technique are as follows:

- 1. The sample is illuminated with electromagnetic rays of various wavelength.
- 2. The light is partially absorbed, depending on the substance. The remaining transmitted light is detected and recorded as a function of wavelength by detector , giving the UV/VIS spectrum.

Sample applications- Qualitative analysis- Organic Compounds

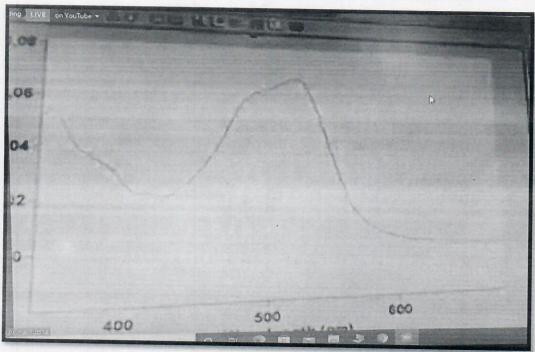

Every substance absorbs light in a different way. A unique and specific relationship exists between the substance and its UV/VIS spectrum. Therefore the spectrum can then be used to identify or quantify a substance

After the tutorial session, a demonstration of UV Vis spectroscopy was given using a Cary-60 UV-Vis Spectrophotometer, with the various parts, functions, and spectrum generation explained while a sample was run.

2nd SESSION

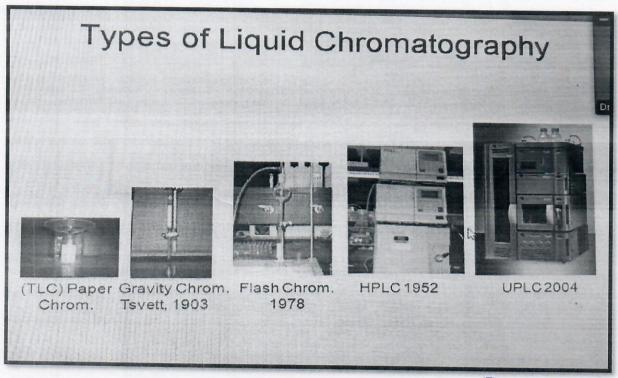

At 3:00 p.m. (IST), the session began Dr. Mohammad Abid was the session's speaker (Jamia Milia Islamia, New Delhi). Dr. Anurag Sharma moderated the session, which was well-coordinated by Prof. Seema R. Pathak (HOD, CBFS, ASAS, AUH) and all of the ASAS department's academic members and Dr. Sal Prima Yudha, a panellist, weres present.

TOPIC: FLASH CHROMATOGRAPHY- PRINCIPLE AND APPLICATIONS

SPEAKER: Dr. Mohammad Abid (Jamia Milia Islamia, New Delhi)

The day's workshop was split into two parts: a lesson and a live demonstration on Flash Chromatography and its principle and applications. The session started with the general introduction on Liquid chromatography.

Introduction of sample

- The sample which is usually a mixture of components is dissolved in minimum quantity of the mobile phase.
- The entire sample is introduced into the column at once and get adsorb on the top portion of the column
- From this zone, individual sample can be separated by a process of elution.

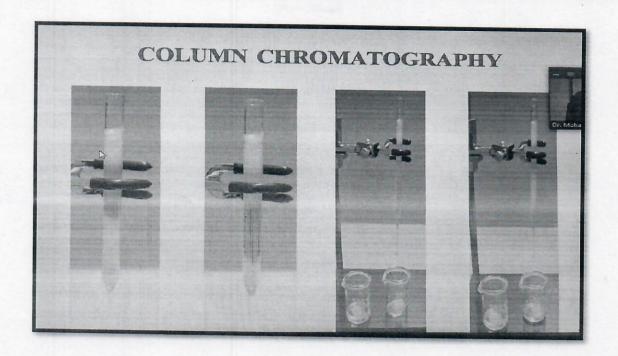

1. WET PACKING TECHNIQUE

Ideal and common techniques

The material is slurred with the solvent and generally added to the column in portions. Solid settles down while the solvent remain upward. This solvent is removed then sea sand id placed.

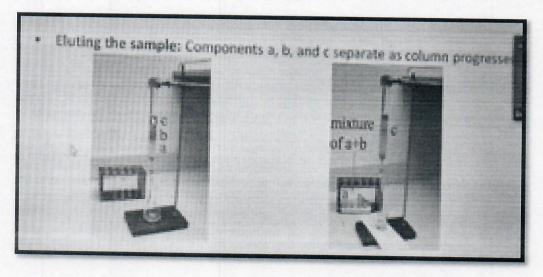

- The stationary phase settles uniformly in the column and there is no entrapment of the air bubbles.
- There will not be any crack in the column of adsorbent.
- The bands eluted from the the column will be uniform and ideal for separation.

2. GRADIENT ELUTION TECHNIQUES

- Solvents of gradually *polarity or * elution strength are used during the process of separation.
- > Initially low polar solvent is used followed by gradually increasing the polarity.
- For example: initially benzene. Then chloroform then ethyl acetate then chloroform.

Fractions can be collected in test tubes, vials, beakers or Erlenmeyer flasks.

- Recovery is done by collecting different fractions of mobile phase of equal volume like 10 ml, 20ml etc or unequal volume.
- The can also be collected time wise i.e. a fraction for every 10 min or 20 min etc. The recovered fractions are detected by using different techniques.

INTRODUCTION

- The term Flash Chromatography was coined in 1978 by W. Clark Still and co workers of Columbia University to describe separations in which a gas- pressurized solvent reset is used to accelerate solvent and achieve superior chemical separations in less than traditional gravity- based column chromatography.
- Flash chromatography is currently one of the most popular techniques for purifying pharmaceuticals intermediated as well as final organic products. It is also widely used natural products research.
- Flash chromatography differs from the conventional Techniques in two ways:
 - 1) Slightly smaller silica gel particles (259-400 mesh) are used.
 - 2) Due to restrict flow of solvent caused by the smaller gel particles, pressurized gas (ca. 10-15 psi) is used to drive the solvent through the column of stationary phase. The net result is rapid and high resolution chromatography.

PRINCIPLE OF FLASH CHROMATOGRAPHY

- The basic principle is that the elution is, under gas pressure rapidly pushed through short glass column with large inner diameter. The glass column is packed with an adsorbent of defined size.
- Silica gel 40-63 um is the most stationary phase but we can use other paticle size also.

Selection of stationary phase

- SILICA: slightly acidic medium. Best for ordinary compound, good separation is achieved.
- FLORISIL: mild, neutral medium, 200 mesh can be effective for easy separations. Less than 200 mesh best for purification by filtration.
- ALUMINA: Basic or neutral medium. Can be effective for easy seperations and purification of amines.
- REVERSE PHASE SILICA: the most polar compounds elute fastest, the most non polar slowest.

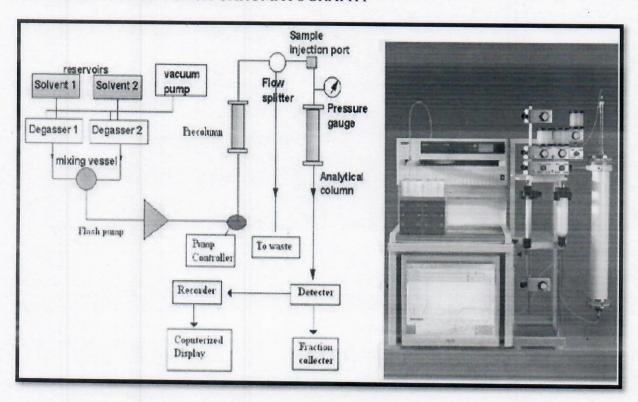

SOLVENT SYSTEM FOR FLASH CHROMATOGRAPGY

Flash column chromatography is usually carried out with a mixture of two solvents (polar and non- polar).

- One- compound solvent system
 - 1) Hydrocarbons: pentane, hexane
 - 2) Ethyl acetate
 - 3) Dichoromethane
- Two- compound solvent syetm
- 1) Methanol/Dichloromethane
- 2) Ethyl Acetate/ Hexane

INSTRUMENTS FOR FLASH CHROMATOGRAPHY

APPLICATIONS OF FLASH CHROMATOGRAPHY

Natural products/ Nutraceuticals applications

- A. Separation and isolation of α -Santalol and β Santalol from sandalwood extraction.
- B. Isolation and purification of chromophoric and nonchromophoric compounds in giant knotweed rhizome.
- C. Isolation and purification of flavonoids from ginkgo biloba leaves extract.
- D. Isolation and purification od catechins from green tea extracts.
- E. In purification of GallaChinensis.
- F. Purification of Ferulic Acid in RhizomaChuanxiong Extract.

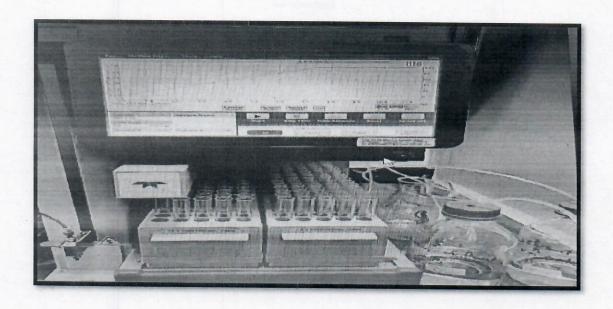

CONCLUSION

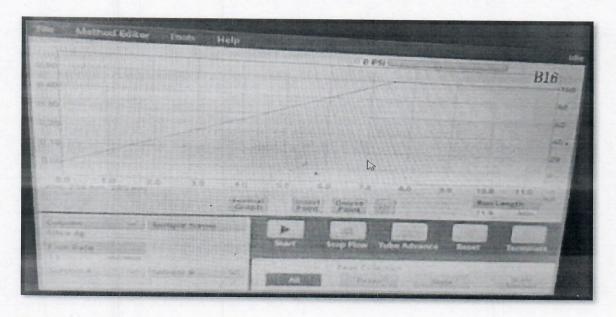

Purification of drug is an important step in any branch of research. Preparative chromatography is used to separate the components of a mixture for more advanced used and is thus a form of purification. Flash chromatography can be alternative to preparative HPLC as it saves time and solvent. Extrapolation of TLC results on preparative scale can be achieved by Flash chromatography. Modern Flash chromatography with disposable cartridges and advanced detection techniques is applicable to a wide range of compounds.

After this tutorial session Dr. Mohammad Abid (Jamia Milia Islamia, New Delhi) gave the demonstration with the help of his Co-worker on Flash chromatography.

Some highlights of his demonstration are:

The session ended with a slew of questions from both the audience and the panelists, demonstrating the high level of curiosity generated by the fantastic presentation. Overall, the workshop provided participants with significant experience in doing experimental research. Prof. Seema R. Pathak and Prof. A.K. Yadav gave a vote of gratitude at the end of the event.

(18TH JANUARY 2022)

The session began at 10:00 AM (IST) by giving the highlights and reviews of the workshop by Dr. Monika Vats (AP, CBFS, ASAS, AUH). After this workshop based quiz and evaluation was done from 10:15- 11:45 AM (IST). Feedback form was filled by all the attendees.

Session ended with the thank you note from Prof. Seema R. Pathak and Prof. A.K. Yadav.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

- 3.1 General Introduction of the Event The Guest Speaker/Resource Person, Mr. Rakesh Jain from Outdoor India, was invited to conduct webinar on adventure tourism & entrepreneurship. He said that to be in the field of adventure tourism one must be adventurous, confident and passionate. Not only do you have to be confident in your own ability, but you also need to have the expert ability to teach others as well as to deal with emergency situations. As this tourism sector involves dangerous activities, you are more responsible for the safety of the tourists. Other attributes include physical fitness, coordination skills, critical thinking skills, good communication skills, planning and organizational skills. An ability to get along and work well with others is also necessary. One must also have expert knowledge of safety and emergency procedures. Proficiency in at least one foreign language is necessary as the candidate might have to deal with tourists from across the world. He talked about career & entrepreneurship opportunities in the field of adventure tourism. He said that adventure tourism offers careers as an Adventure Tour operator, Tour Guide, Safari Guide, Travel and Information Consultant, Diver, Adventure Sports Trainer, Adventure Photographer, Wildlife Photographer etc. The employment opportunities arise with tour companies, eco-adventure resorts, holiday resorts, leisure camps, excursion agencies, commercial recreation centers and sports centers. There is also an entrepreneurship option of setting up one's own adventure sports center in his/her area of specialization.
- 3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event To make ASH Students aware about the nature of adventure tourism along with career & entrepreneurship opportunities in the field of adventure tourism.
- 3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speaker mentioned in the 'General Introduction of the Event'.
- 3.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees The attendees learnt about the nature of adventure tourism along with career & entrepreneurship opportunities in the field of adventure tourism & the guest speaker/resource person expressed his interest in delivering more of such expert talks in future.
- 3.5 Future plan for utilizing the contacts developed with the Invited Guest ASH will try to collaborate with Mr. Rakesh Jain to enhance adventurous activities at AUH Campus.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event:

The expert talk Technology Transfer and Commercialization of Research Outcome was organized to discuss the developing technologies and ideas to commercialize it for benefits. The ideas were talked about and how can one use it for generating commercial benefits.

3.2 Objectives of the Event:

The objective of this event was to create a vision in young minds about Technology Transfer and create entrepreneur mind-set among students. It focused on self- employment and foster bright ideas and commercialize them. It talked how can one use technology and innovations to generate start-ups.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers:

The speaker was introduced by Dr Anirban. This expert talk was led my Ms. Meenakshi Kanojia who is RTTP Assistant director, Director of Innovation and technology transfer co-coordinator, DST-Amity technology enabling center. She talked about how is innovation different from invention, about how innovations can add market value to any particular invention and how can one use them to extract monetary benefits. She talked about various TRL levels which evaluate maturity of technology and helps to improve it. Factors affecting basic research outcomes and involved stakeholders were also a part of discussion. Licensing of patents, assignments, University spin-offs and join ventures and collaborations were various technology transfer mechanism which were too talked about. Various issues about licensing rights, funding, market and capital risks were also discussed. At last, not the least the talk was concluded by Dr. Sangeeta, with a thank you note.

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

The Guest Speaker/Resource Person, Chef Atul Malik from Wall Street/Papa Whiskey/Penthouse/Karim's/Le Antares, was invited webinar to conduct on Hospitality Entrepreneurship and Startup Innovations. He said that to be in the field of Hospitality Entrepreneurship and Startup Innovations one must be adventurous, confident and passionate. Not only do you have to be confident in your own ability, but you also need to have the expert ability to teach others. As hospitality sector involves complex situations and activities, you are required to be more responsible towards the satisfaction of the guests. Other attributes include flexibility, coordination skills, critical thinking skills, good communication skills, planning and organizational skills. An ability to get along and work well with others is also necessary. He talked about the innovative entrepreneurship and start-up opportunities in the field of hospitality. Many developments have occurred in the hospitality business in recent years. Changes in the hospitality industry landscape include competitive challenges, altering customer tastes & consumption patterns, technology breakthroughs, consolidation, price discounting and new distribution channels. Innovation has been promoted as a means of dealing with these developments in the hospitality sector. He talked about what is innovation, how has it worked in the hospitality business and what are the important concepts to nurture innovation. The goal of this webinar was to explore innovative entrepreneurship and start-up opportunities in the hospitality sector. The entrepreneurship and innovation are linked as the entrepreneurial attitude is required for starting new firms as well as revitalizing established ones.

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

With a view to train the students about the production of video content that attracts international audience a joint training/workshop was conducted by SputnikPro and ASCO, AUH as per following schedule.

Title: How to create video content that attracts audience?

Date: 9th February 2022 Time: 13:30 – 15:15 IST

Speaker: Ms. Olga Anisimova

Ms. Olga Anisimova is Head of Video Production - Rossiya Segodnya media group (SputnikPro) AND Editor-in-chief - TOK Media.

The session was moderated by Ms. Olga Dycheva - Head of Sputnik hub in New Delhi. In India she was working with website Russia beyond the headlines and at Ruptly - the daughter organization of RT before appointed as the head of Sputnik News Agency at Delhi since 2017

Sputnik is a modern news agency whose products include newsfeeds, websites, social networks, mobile apps, radio broadcasts and multimedia press centers. Sputnik HQ is located in Moscow. Regional offices are located in key regions and countries around the world, including India (New Delhi) the United States (Washington, DC), China (Beijing), France (Paris), Germany (Berlin), Egypt (Cairo). The agency covers global political and economic news targeting an international audience.

Objectives of the Event

- Share experience with international colleagues
- Bring more multiculturalism to journalism
- Develop international media communications

3.2 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

The event started with a brief introduction of the event by Ms. Olga Dyvecha – Head of Sputnik Pro Delhi office who commenced with an introduction of Sputnik Media Group. Thereafter Dr. Tanushri Purohit, Ms. Esha Jainiti and Prof. Dr. Amit Chawla from Amity University – Haryana were introduced by Ms. Dycheva. After a formal welcome note by Dr. Tanushri Purohit and Ms. Esha Jainiti where Amity University, Amity Skill Institute and ASCO were introduced, the session started with the expert speaker, Ms. Olga Anisimova, Head of Video Production, Rossiya Segodnya media group and Editor-in-Chief, TOK Media sharing about her background and about Media Group.

Importance of time spent on setting up a camera was discussed. Thereafter the expert mentioned about the frame and mood setting. Metaphorical representation of visuals with the help of semiotics was explained. Reconstruction Video was played for the audience and it was highly appreciated. Plan and Structure of documentary is important start. Importance of Editing was shared by the expert with help of examples. Staging for showcasing reality was emphasized. Scope and opportunities of working with YouTube Creators Page was discussed.

More than a dozen questions were asked by the participants that were interestingly and adequately answered by the expert from TOK Media. Towards the end, Prof. Dr. Amit Chawla presented a vote of thanks to TOK Media, SputnikPro, Ms. Dycheva, Ms. Olga Anisimova, faculty and all the students of Amity University.

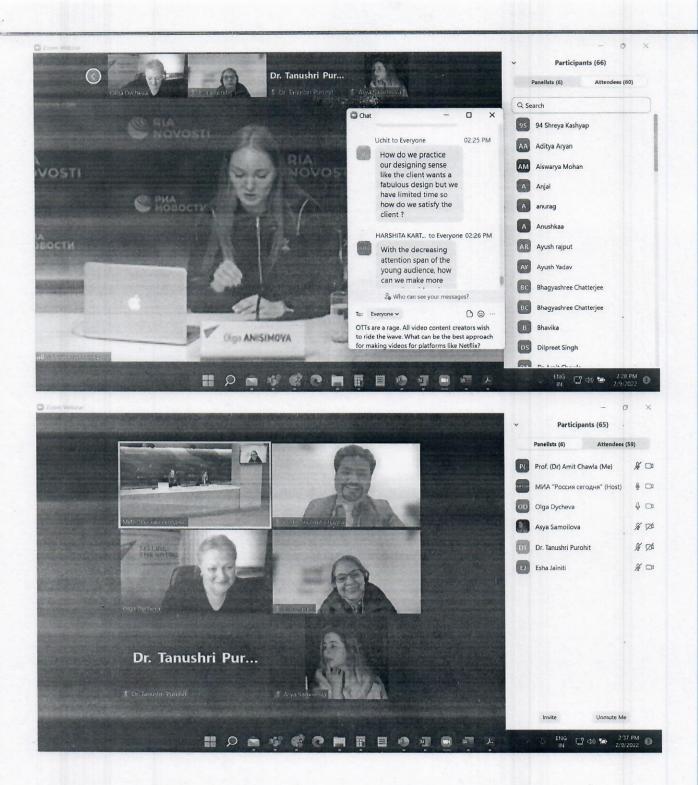

75+ students and 6 panelists (3 from Amity, 2 from Sputnik and 1 from Tok Media) participated in this intriguing event that continued from 1:30 PM to 3:00 PM on 9/2/2022.

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

11:00 AM onwards

Legal Associate, Sai Krishna Associate

Brief Overview: -

Ms. Sahney began with a brief introduction of her Law firm, which was followed by a brief introduction of the topic. She than broadly covered different types of Intellectual Property (hereafter IP), including Patents, Copyright, Trademarks, Trade Secrets, Trade Design and more, with certain examples. Adding to that, she explained the IP registration process in India and IP Rights in brief. She thereafter elaborated upon key Issues in Patenting relationship between IP and Economic Growth.

Ms. Sahney cited some Landmark cases and, also gave examples like the Maggie Case, as to why Maggie didn't get their product Patented but went in Trade Secret, the Basmati Rice Case, as to why is there a need to give the grains Patent to Madhya Pradesh only; the Automobile Bot example, the Square Watermelon example of Nashik, the Pepsi Potato Case, the S Turneric Case, the example of copies being sold of Manish Malhotra's designs and the Case of Philip versus Francis. She succinctly explain the concepts of Plant Variety Protection and Farmers' Rights, and Traditional Knowledge Digital Library, along with their importance in India.

The Lecture cum Workshop concluded with a Question-Answer Session with the distribution of a Questionnaire that was to be filled by the participants in groups, followed by a brief emphasis on the topic by Dr. Atul Jain, Associate Professor, Amity law School. Vote of Thanks was then proposed by Maj. Gen. P.K. Sharma (Retd.), Dean and Director, Amity Law School.

The Lecture cum Workshop was attended by more than 200 students of Amity Law School and it was conducted in the Moot Court Hall.

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

The Guest Lecture/ Expert talk Session conducted every week during academic session; is the academic-industry interface of ABS, MBA programme. This special CC/Expert talk session is conducted on online interactive platform on Zoom, Cisco Webex app during these Covid-19 work from home situation, an innovative initiation by ABS, AUH To keep Management students aligned and engaged with their academic and Industry Integration/ expert perspective objectives.

3.2 Objectives of the Event

To apprise and mould Management students of ABS, AUH to practically Lean Startup steps to achieve Problem-Solution Fit by aligning a valuable customer segment and their underserved need with the value proposition of a business idea..

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

- In an interactive session by Ms. Darshana Parmar Jain, Director, Legato Spaces, India after getting introduced by Dr Ranjana Kothari, Associate Professor, ABS AUH, elaborately explained the significance of main goal is to understand the severity of the problem you intend to solve compared to the value of your solution. The most dangerous trap the startup can fall into is creating a product nobody wants. This almost inevitably will happen if you decide to solve a problem which is not causing anyone a severe headache. You will end up delivering just "nice to have" value instead of proposing something your target customers have been dreaming about or maybe even something they didn't dare to dream!
- Ms. Darshana Parmar Jain explained What we don't want to do is to build a solution in search of a problem. There is too much waste in the world to launch something customers don't want. Besides your time, the scarcest resource you have, really deserves to be used for something useful and purposeful.
- Ms. Darshana Parmar Jain explained Most of the entrepreneurs we meet have a great idea, and they love it so much that their secret desire would be to find a way to shove it down the throat of their customers. Some of these entrepreneurs even asked us: is there a way I can educate my customers so that they need what I do?
- The Guest Lecture S ended with thanksgiving note by Dr Ranjana Kothari, Associate Professor, ABS, AUH.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

An online IPR awareness program of National intellectual Property Awareness Mission (NIPAM) was organized by Office of the Controller General of Patents, Design & Trademarks, Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India in collaboration with Amity School of Applied Sciences and Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), Amity University Haryana. Prof. A.K. Yadav, Prof. Seema R. Pathak, Dr. Anurag Sharma, Dr. Anirban Das, Dr. Kamalkanta Behera and Dr. Kamal Nayan Sharma were the panelist in the session. The speakers Ms. Varsha Garg and Ms. Ms. Prachi Prateeti were introduced by Dr. Anurag Sharma (ASAS, AUH) followed by a welcome speech by our honorable HoI (ASAS, AUH) Prof. A.K. Yadav Sir. He also addressed the online gathering of participants of the event with his encouraging welcome message.

Prof. A. K. Yadav (HoI, ASAS) during his welcome message, all panellists and speakers

After the welcome message of Prof. AK. Yadav sir, Ms. Varsha Garg (Examiner, Patents and Designs, DPIIT, Ministry of Commerce, Delhi) and Ms. Ms. Prachi Prateeti (Examiner, Patents and Designs, Chemical Division, IPO, Delhi) has delivered expert lecture on IPR awareness. The 1st speaker Ms. Varsha Garg first gave a brief background of Intellectual property. Then the current status of industrial designs that are filled in India was discussed. Further, she highlighted the number of patent applications by Indian residents, NRIs and from abroad from 2011-2020. She also discussed about the current rank of different countries on Global innovation index and the position of India among the list containing USA, China, Germany, UK. Then the speaker discussed about the benefits of filling patents and also the need for IPR. Then, she conducted a quiz session for the students. After that, the question-answer session was going on for around 30 min. Following are some glimpses of the expert lecture given by Ms. Varsha Garg.

Points to remember before filing

- · First file then publish
- · Do not share your invention with others
- Don't wait until the invention is fully developed for commercial working before applying for patent
- · Every application for a patent shall be for one invention
- · For limited time- 20 years
- · Patent Rights are Territorial right
- · Jurisdiction

Ms. Varsha Garg during her expert talk

After this, second IPR expert Ms. Ms. Prachi Prateeti briefed about the concepts and functions of Trade Marks. Then, she discussed about the subject matter of trade marks. She also discussed about how one can indicate the trade marks. She also elaborated about the copyright and copyleft and geographical indication tag. After the brilliant lecture she also conducted a quiz session among participants. Some of the glimpses of the talk are shown below-

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event(Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

Ministry of Human Resource Development Govt. of India has established MHRD Innovation cell to systematically foster the culture of innovation amongst all higher education institute. The primary mandate of MIC is to encourage and inspire young students to bring innovative ideas and transform them into real entrepreneurs. Amity University Haryana alongwith Amity Innovation Incubator Gurugram, E Cell are responsible for promoting enterpreneurship culture and assisting budding enterpreneur to provide them necessary resources. This workshop is organized to build skills, attitude and behavior needed to be developed to be a successful entrepreneur.

3.2 Objectives of the Event

To develop enterprenuership skills, attitude and behaviour in students.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

- Event started with the welcome address by Prf. (Dr.) Vikas Madhukar, Director, ABS, AUH who mentioned in his address that looking up to the statistics 60000 start-up have come up in year 2019 which comes out to be approx. 200 start-up per day. In the present era the focus is on building a culture of innovation and entrepreneurship and AUH is focused on building this culture in the university. He added that there is a shift in social perception where entrepreneurs are not born they can be created unlike the old days when the business was carried down to the generation.
- Dr Tanushree Purohit said that as the society is changing very fast and it needs innovation to cater to the everchanging needs of the society, the answer for this is think like an entrepreneur. Expert interacted with the audience and asked about what drives them for being an entrepreneur. Audience responded with desire to get money, desire to bring change in the society. She continued to interact with the students and mentioned that while her experience with the entrepreneurs she learnt that it is required to break the comfort zone and move to the zone of discomfort to be successful entrepreneur.
- Expert also mentioned that we need to accept the skills we have that to move from 'I can't' to 'I can do it' and practice these skills in your present environment. Do not keep waiting for the change to come to you but bring the change today.
- Expert has talked about imperative skills which are: Consistency, Innovation, Technology, Risk taking, Leadership, Honesty, Patience, Taking care of people and giving them recognition, networking, adaptable, follow successful people, Practice a routine, Plan, Reading.

- Expert discussed the attitude needed to develop entrepreneurship are: Plolem solving, Positivity, Self-motivation, Go-getter, Curious, Constantly Learning, Integrity, Comprehensive Altertness, Realistic approach, Customer centric.
- Expert has answered the questions of the participants at the end of her talk.
- The session is ended by thanksgiving by Mr. Deepanshu Hans.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event(Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

The Corporate Connect Session (CCS)/ Expert talk Session conducted every week during academic session; is the academic-industry interface feature of ABS, MBA and its Innovation, Incubation Centre programmes. This special CC/Expert talk session is conducted on online interactive platform on Zoom, Cisco Webex app. The expert sessions have been continuing on online dispensation, an innovative initiation by ABS, AUH; in order to keep Management students aligned and engaged with their academic and Industry Integration with expert perspective objectives.

3.2 Objectives of the Event

To apprise and mould Management students of ABS, AUH to have insight into the actual working of corporate ecosystem/ expert mind-set, and how best to mould themselves with intellectual, behavioural, personality and execution skill-set to become an efficient Manager.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers:

- The interactive session on Innovative Design and Critical Thinking session by Ms. Ekta Jafri, Design Director, IBM IX, is initiated by student anchor introduction and opening remarks by Dr. Ranjana, Faculty Coordinator of the session followed of opening speech by Prof.(Dr.) Vikas Madhukar, Dy PVC, AUH, wherein he highlighted the significance of Innovative Product Design processes and critical thinking, necessary for entrepreneurship development and managerial efficiency.
- Ms. Ekta Jafri elaborated extensively on the process of innovation in product development, wherein she underscored the significance of Principles, the loop and keys which leads to development of value-set, keeping product utilities in perspective. She further explained the value idea in the form of principles be observed, reflect upon and finally to make it; keeping the product utility and customer in focus. The making of design must reflect the value-set with which the designs are developed and be in prototype form. The user interaction and technological sophistication form the research base and its making depends on adherence to value-set, defined for the product. This forms the critical thinking process creating the continuous loop of observe-reflect-make process.
- The session is highly interactive with queries from students as well as faculties. The session is ended by thanksgiving by Dr. Ranjana.

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

The Corporate Connect Session (CCS)/ Expert talk Session conducted every week during academic session; is the academic-industry interface feature of ABS, MBA and its Centre for Business Analytics and Innovation, Incubation Centre programmes. This special CC/Expert talk session is conducted on online interactive platform on Zoom, Cisco Webex app during this semester working session on online dispensation, an innovative initiation by ABS, AUH To keep Management students aligned and engaged with their academic and Industry Integration/ expert perspective objectives.

3.2 Objectives of the Event

To apprise and mould Management students of ABS, AUH to have insight into the actual working of corporate ecosystem/ expert mind-set, and how best to mould themselves with intellectual, behavioural, personality and execution skill-set to become an efficient Manager.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

- The intensive interactive session involving Mr. Vivien Massot, MD, TAC Economics India began with his introduction by student anchor and opening remarks by Dr. Vani Agarwal, Faculty coordinator of the programme. The session progressed with opening note by Prof. (Dr.) Vikas Madhukar, Dy. PVC, AUH; wherein he emphasised that country risk assessment models are essential for determining risk and return profile of different countries for enabling appropriate forecasting by international financial experts. Mr. Vivien initiated his deliverance by providing insights into economic, political and environmental factors that builds up country risk profile of a country and how further through applying quantitative tools that profile can be indexed and clustered into different categories for taking effect decisions on international finance decisions.
- Mr. Vivien further elaborated that determination of cent percent country risk profile is not possible, it is not crystal ball forecasting as political and economic crisis cannot be predicted beforehand, but economic profile with accuracy of balance of payment, foreign exchange reserve, monetary policy data, provides country risk models credibility. Mr. Vivien explained how country risk models affect international investment decisions and helps in forecastings.

- Mr Vivien answered queries by students and faculties and stressed that country risk model always depends on multiple data sets for its validity and it cannot predict any financial crisis beforehand.
- The session ended with thanksgiving by student anchor and Dr. Vani Agarwal.

Idea behind the meet is to have a healthy interaction between our pass out students those who are working in field with our current students to get to know their senior's experiences generates a new kind of confidence and motivation.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

The alumni those were invited- Ar. Raghu Charan, who is a sustainable vernacular designer and brought many new ideas to the table and made us question the very definition of architecture. This lecture made us aware of the scope and the actual width of an architect's job.

Our second speaker was Aditya Gehlot, is a landscape designer at present. He took us to the intricate details of importance of landscapes and the role they play and how important it is to keep sustainability in our minds while designing.

Alumni from B.Plan also graced the event with his presence Mr. Ajay Sudarshan. He started his own firm after leaving the college and his venture provided employment to many other alumni of our college. His presentation made us aware of the needs of the market, also he discussed about how one can start/establish a firm.

3.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees

The panel discussion was a learning experience of new techniques, ideas and technologies. Amity School of Architecture and Planning always encourages networking and communicating and this lecture was nothing other than interactive.

General Introduction of the Event

IEC and Behavioral change are extremely important disciplines of study for Communication students. There are many projects offered from time to time by various Indian and International, Government and Non-Government agencies. Both, students and faculty of ASCO can pitch for such projects and benefit if they have knowledge. The session by Dr. Doria was about these IEC projects and how one can approach at bagging these.

Title: IEC projects

Date: 28/02/2022 (Monday)

Time: 10:00 AM - 11:30 PM

Dr. MS Doria is a seasoned professional and an expert in the field of 'Information, Education and Communication' and 'Behavioural Change'. He served as Addl. Director (PR) - IEC Bureau and addressed at events organized by UNICEF, Europen Union, SWRPD, World Bank etc., and executed various projects of Govt. of India and Govt. of Rajasthan.

Objectives of the Event

Traditional forms of communication are challenged at every step due to the emerging and ever changing technologies and how people use it. The said industry interaction cum workshop was aimed to the fill these gaps and imparting training in niche and emerging areas of Information, Education and Communication (IEC) Projects.

Brief about the address/talk of speakers

The event started with a brief introduction of the expert by Prof. Amit Chawla and welcome address by Ms. Esha Jainiti. Thereafter the following questions were answered by the expert

What is IEC?

Why is understanding IEC important in today's world of Communication

Who all are the stakeholders?

Direct and indirect ways to communicate with the stakeholders.

How to apply for an IEC projects?

How to involve local people in IEC projects.

One example that guest speaker gave was to make them understand why washrooms are important or beneficial for them , this will surely attract their attention , to make them understand how and why technologies are beneficial for them . When we are projecting some agendas , the points needed for them are personal communication and implementing period , resources required , time frame and responsibility. We have to convince them in best possible way , we can use their local language or Hindi for better interaction .

Many questions were raised by both faculty and the students that were addressed by the expert in the most interesting manner. The session ended with a Vote of Thanks from Prof. Dr. Pooja Rana and concluding remarks by Ms. Esha Jainiti.

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

A Hybrid mode CAD Workshop on "Basics of "Adobe illustrator" organised by AMITY INSTITUTE OF DESIGN (Fashion Design) to develop the skills. Students will need to create, manage, and edit vector artwork. To Gain a sound introduction to the concepts of vector graphics and their implementation within the design process and learn best practice approaches to boost the productivity. Learning Adobe illustrator will help students to design, create and edit in fashion design context. It will help students to work in illustration of garments and Graduation design collection.

3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event

- To use Adobe Illustrator to create high-quality illustrations, logos, and another custom artwork.
- To understand the workspace, tools, and drawing features those are available in Adobe Illustrator.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

3.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees

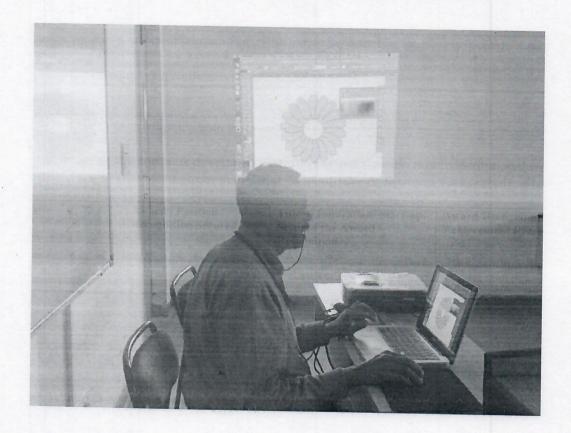

- With Adobe Illustrator, students will have an extra level of flexibility when working to customize your overall workspace. Interface allows for custom viewing. There is an option to enable space saving as well. These processes allow to work on thell4jt project in whatever way is most comfortable, while maintaining complete control over all the available options.
- It allows to work on multiple images in a similar fashion all at once, which makes you much more productive than the other programs which force you to work on one image at a time.
- Zero resolution issues when working with Adobe Illustrator. Because the graphics are based on mathematics equations instead of stored pixels, It always gives sharp, crisp lines that are print-ready in any dimension.
- Compared to similar platforms, Illustrator creates files that are relatively small. You can share them quite easily, mail them as an attachment, or use them without absorbing most of your computing resources.
- Re-create print-ready graphics with ease thanks to Adobe Illustrator. Students are also able to create web graphics with this platform.
- 3.5 Future for utilizing the contacts developed with the Invited Guests- Future institutional workshop.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event: The main purpose of this FDP was to introduce LMS. LMS helps monitor students' progress and performance in the course. It has an in-built feature that keeps track of their records, grades, submissions, and engagement with the course. Likewise, it collates important files and documents shared by the students in the platform. These, in turn, will measure their progress in the course. You can also create milestones which students need to achieve, step by step, to ensure that they are right on track with the course progression. Most importantly, LMS can pinpoint areas in your lessons or course that need improvement. It can suggest activities and supplementary learning materials that you can add in your syllabus. It can assist identifying which of your students will need extra guidance to get through the course.

3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event:

Nowadays, distance is one of the greatest obstacles for teachers and students. But thanks to various communication tools that technology provides, both sides can interact outside the classroom and school grounds.

To keep students engaged, LMS provides such tools for communication. These are in the form of chat boxes, forums, posts, blogs, and even social media platforms integration. This encourages students to speak out during and even outside class hours. Likewise, LMS keeps the channel for interaction open so that anyone can ask questions, post reminders, and clarify anything related to the course. This also allows collaboration between other students.

In a way, LMS for higher education is better than simply having video conferences between students and teachers every now and then. After all, having several people in one virtual conference call can make it difficult for each of their voices to be heard. With LMS, you can ensure engagement with everyone enrolled in the course.

Objectives: Personalised Learning Experience

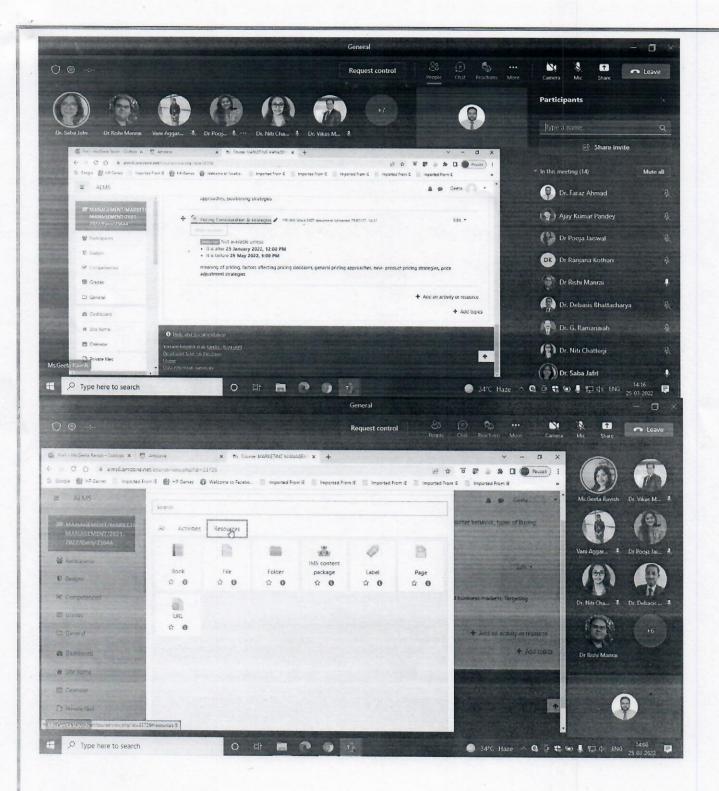

With a learning management system for students, they can personalize their learning experience. Since online learning provides flexibility in terms of where, how, and when they can be accessed, students can learn anytime and anywhere they want. They can access learning materials during and outside class hours. They can conduct their independent study or watch live streams of lectures with the rest of their classmates. They can choose where they want to take their course and what device to use.

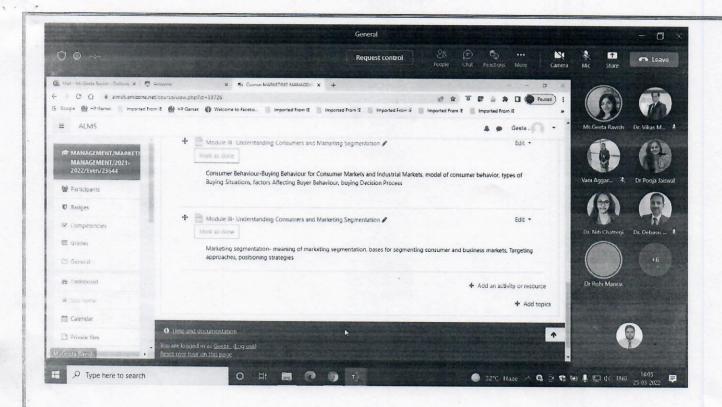

Teachers also have absolute control on how they want to teach and interact with their students. They have various tools to choose from to support their preferred teaching styles. Likewise, they can upload files, videos, powerpoint presentations, modules, and others to supplement their syllabus. They can also choose to be dynamic and interactive or more modular and traditional.

In this way, LMS does not only customize learning content. It can also personalize the learning experience with the course as well. This flexibility and personalization serve both students and teachers.

3.3 Future plan for utilizing the contacts developed with the Invited Guests: To conduct FDPs on how to Effectively Use LMS

Any other

The workshop started by dividing the participants into three distinct groups and each was assigned a different task.

- Group 1- Bench made from bricks using the rat trap bond.
- Group 2- 4.5ft high Jaali wall make from bricks.
- Group 3- Bench made from bricks using cavity walls.

Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

- 3.1 General Introduction of the Event Amity School of Architecture and Planning, Haryana organized a building material and construction workshop on the occasion of International Earth day 2022.
- 3.2 Objectives of the Event- The purpose of the workshop was to develop a general understanding of basic building techniques amongst the students, get some practical knowledge.

Procedure for Group 1:

The process of building a bench using rat trap bond starts with providing plain and strong bedding. To provide bedding the team started digging with the help of a spade of 4 to 6-inch-deep pits in the ground in L shape. After emptying the pit, the ground is made a plain surface with the help of an earth rammer and the ground is made moist with water.

After achieving a plain surface, mixture of mortar of ratio 1:5:3 is prepared. Now the PCC is laid with the mixture of broken bricks to achieve the strong foundation. To begin the procedure of laying the bricks we first make sure that the L shape of the bench is in a proper right angle using a thread and the 3:4:5 rules (Pythagoras theorem). The pattern of laying bricks is mentioned in the attached drawing given below. These drawing were referred to understand the laying pattern for the bricks. Each layer was laid carefully, and the mortar was again put in between and above the bricks. After laying each layer the thread is elevated according to the increasing height to keep the angle of the bench correct. Along with this to make sure the bench is erected vertically in a proper manner the usage of a plumb bob is made, it is used after laying each layer of bricks. A total of 5 layers of bricks are erected vertically to achieve a height of nearly 575mm.

Materials used- Bricks, Cement, Sand, trowel, spade

Learning from the workshop:

- Using the 3:4:5 rule (Pythagoras theorem)
- Usage of tools on site.
- Using a earth rammer.
- Curing of bricks and its importance.
- Understanding of timing of drying mortar.

Completion of Rat Trap Bond

Procedure for Group 2:

The process of making jail wall began with providing a well prepared foundation around 5" deep. After that PCC was prepared by mixing cement water sand and brick pieces together. The PCC mixture was laid in the bedding. The next step was to lay 3 course of bricks. After that the design of the jali wall was started, which was made 900mm. Learning from the workshop:

- Usage of tools on site.
- Using a earth rammer.
- Curing of bricks and its importance.

Completion of Jali

Procedure for Group 3:

The process of building a cavity wall bench starts with providing plain and strong bedding. To provide bedding the team started digging a 4 to 6-inch-deep pits in the ground in L shape. After emptying the pit, the ground is made a plain surface with the help of an earth rammer and the ground is made moist with water. Now a mixture of brick dust and pcc is made and laid into the pit and again made plain with the help of the earth rammer.

After achieving a plain surface, mixture of mortar of ratio 1:5:3 is prepared. A thin layer of this mixture is put on the rammed pcc and brick dust. To begin the procedure of laying the bricks we first make sure that the L shape of the bench is in a proper right angle using a thread and the 3:4:5 rule (Pythagoras theorem). The pattern of laying bricks is mentioned in the attached drawing given below. These drawing were referred to understand the laying pattern for the bricks. Each layer was laid carefully, and the mortar was again put in between and above the bricks. After laying each layer the thread is elevated according to the increasing height to keep the angle of the bench correct. Along with this to make sure the bench is erected vertically in a proper manner the usage of a plumb bob is made, it is used after laying each layer of bricks. After every two layers 3 sheets of thermocol were stuffed in between the wall and butterfly ties were laid on the horizontal plane surface achieved. A total of 6 layers of bricks are erected vertically to achieve a height of nearly 450mm.

Materials used- Bricks, Cement, Sand, thermocols for insulation, trowel, spade

Learning from the workshop:

- Using the 3:4:5 rule.
- Usage of tools on site.
- Using a pump bob.
- Using a earth rammer.
- Breaking a brick into a three-quarter closure bat.
- Curing of bricks and its importance.
- Understanding of timing of drying mortar.

Bond Explanation

Completion of Cavity Wall

The workshop helps students to understand the procedures and the intricacy of work on site. Also help to understand the value of labors work and their hardship. The practical scenario on site is very different than the theoretical learning. The workshop was also a playful and bonding experience for the department.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

In order to sensitize patenting among Faculties and Research Scholars, IPR cell, AUH has scheduled a virtual meeting to ensure augmentation of IP filings.

3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event

Amity University Haryana is focussed on translational research and knowledge of IPR is highly required as it allows the innovators to protect their rights.

With the increasing focus on innovation, research and cross-border collaborations, need to learn about intellectual property rights (IPRs) to safeguard their inventions has increased among inventors. Hence, when an innovator chooses to file for an IPR, it provides other benefits beyond protection such as licensing, better collaboration and funding opportunities. The academic community needs a higher level of sensitization and exposure to patenting and technology commercialization. Therefore, development of in-house expertise for assessment and filing of provisional patent applications as well as commercialization of patented technologies is highly required.

This workshop and lecture series is a step forward in this direction.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

Mr. Harish Sharma discussed about the procedures to file patents, copyrights and trademarks. He has shown how WIPO works.

Intellectual property rights are the rights given to persons over the creations of their minds. They usually give the creator an exclusive right over the use of his/her creation for a certain period of time. Intellectual property rights are customarily divided into two main areas:

(i) Copyright and rights related to copyright.

The rights of authors of literary and artistic works (such as books and other writings, musical compositions, paintings, sculpture, computer programs and films) are protected by copyright, for a minimum period of 50 years after the death of the author.

Also protected through copyright and related (sometimes referred to as "neighbouring") rights are the rights of performers (e.g. actors, singers and musicians), producers of phonograms (sound recordings) and broadcasting organizations. The main social purpose of protection of copyright and related rights is to encourage and reward creative work.

(ii) Industrial property.

Industrial property can usefully be divided into two main areas:

One area can be characterized as the protection of distinctive signs, in particular trademarks (which distinguish the goods or services of one undertaking from those of other undertakings) and geographical indications (which identify a good as originating in a place where a given characteristic of the good is essentially attributable to its geographical origin).

The protection of such distinctive signs aims to stimulate and ensure fair competition and to protect consumers, by enabling them to make informed choices between various goods and services. The protection may last indefinitely, provided the sign in question continues to be distinctive.

Other types of industrial property are protected primarily to stimulate innovation, design and the creation of technology. In this category fall inventions (protected by patents), industrial designs and trade secrets.

The social purpose is to provide protection for the results of investment in the development of new technology, thus giving the incentive and means to finance research and development activities.

A functioning intellectual property regime should also facilitate the transfer of technology in the form of foreign direct investment, joint ventures and licensing.

The protection is usually given for a finite term (typically 20 years in the case of patents). While the basic social objectives of intellectual property protection are as outlined above granted also be noted that the exclusive rights given are consults while the exclusive rights given are consults and the exclusive rights are aimed at fine-tuning the balance that has to be found between the legitimate interests of right holders and of users.

3.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees

Ethical guidelines of how patents, copyrights and trademarks can be done. Filing for intellectual property rights not only helps innovators protect their invention, but also provides better collaboration and funding opportunities.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

Hundreds of nurse entrepreneurs have used their nursing skills, knowledge, and education to start businesses, writes Elizabeth Hanink, RN, BSN, PHN, in Working Nurse. Yet on the whole, nurse entrepreneurs are still largely unknown. Nursing career site Nurse Theory defines a nurse entrepreneur as a nurse who leverages their healthcare background along with creativity, business systems knowledge, and successful investment strategies to develop their own business in the healthcare industry. These professionals have a range of roles and enjoy a number of benefits different from those of traditional nurses. Discover how this motivated and growing group of nurses, often aided by a Doctor of Nursing Practice or another advanced degree, could change the way we think about nursing.

Nurse entrepreneurs combine healthcare knowledge and business sensibilities to develop successful business ventures that centre around optimal care delivery. Nurse entrepreneurs can focus their business on any of numerous health-related categories, such as information technology and patient data storage, healthcare services, or medical devices. The work of nurse entrepreneurs carries the potential to make a profound impact on healthcare. By independently working to create new and innovative tools and systematic industry advances, they can help lay the foundation to move the concept of care delivery forward in many ways. These can include more cost-effective means of care delivery, more efficient patient treatment, and the ability to create more robust individualized, proactive patient wellness strategies. Ultimately, nurse entrepreneurs can make it possible for patients to have better control over their health and healthcare costs, which could go a long way toward helping them improve their quality of life.

3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event

- To sensitize the students towards the role of a nurse as an entrepreneur other than the traditional roles of being a bedside nurse.
- ✓ To show the students the possibility of path breaking scope of nursing.
- ✓ To enhance learning of the subjects by the students.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

Dr. Ramu K discussed the following topics in his lecture: 5 reasons nurse become entrepreneurs, Nurse entrepreneur salary & Employment, Nurse entrepreneur building nurse profession leading to better health care, barriers to nurse entrepreneurships.

Workshop Goal: AUH, Haryana, Amity School of Fine Art conducted Printmaking workshop in this Semester and encourage the students to dive into the world of linocut printmaking in this beginner's class, and students' soon be channelling as a designer. Students'll learn how to cut, carved, or gouged into a sheet of linoleum, and this stamp is then inked and pressed onto the fabric, creating repeating patterns and creating a mirror image of your final design. Our aim is to ensure that you feel confident enough to continue printing with lino in your own environment after you leave this workshop. This workshop is suitable for beginners to intermediate.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event:

Linocut burst into popularity in the early 20th century as a printmaking technique. In this fourhour workshop, you will learn the skills of Linocut printmaking, Once learned, this versatile and accessible technique can be applied to the creation of artist's books, textile design, poster design and limited-edition prints. Linocut is among the oldest printmaking techniques and continues to be a strong graphic tradition today. This workshop will cover designing and drawing your image, how to transfer it to a lino block, and the best methods for proper carving to make a long-lasting and reusable stamp. In this workshop, Mr. Abjijit Kumar Mohanty will introduce the tools and methods required to carve and print from your own relief lino blocks. Students will explore carving techniques to obtain a range of texture, depth, and dramatic contrast to create strong visual statements in their artwork.

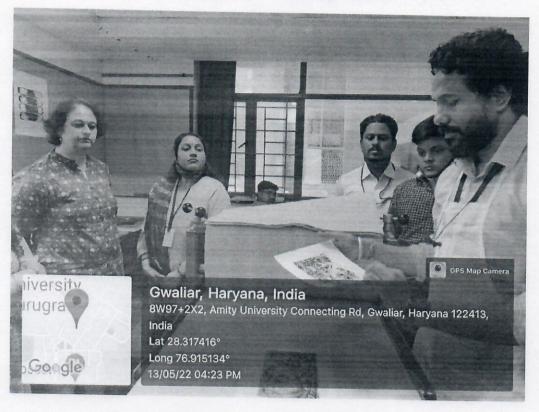

- 3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event: Amity School of Fine Arts (AID) organised Lino printmaking. During the six days workshop, students and faculties carefully guided through each stage of the linocut process. We covered the different ways can use the carving tools and mark making, other ways to make marks in the lino, planning your design, transferring the design to the lino, carving, rolling out the inking, blending colors and printing. Lino printing is fun and easy. Students and faculties learned In this six -day lino printing workshop and learn how to design, carve and print a one colour linocut print. Equipped with skills to confidently continue hand-printing simple images and designs on one colour on a range of surfaces include paper and fabric. Learned how to use the carving tools, then carve and print a linocut. We did print a small edition onto quality printmaking paper with a baren, and learn how you can apply this printmaking technique to other surfaces such as fabrics.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

Intellectual property is a complicated topic. Although some situations are fairly clear-cut, the answer to other questions is a perplexing "It depends." Some nurse educators haven't thought about how they can or cannot legally use works created by others, or even by themselves, in a previous job position. Meanwhile, other nurse educators who do consider the legality of use have unintentionally acted on incorrect information. In either case, ignorance of intellectual property and copyright is not an excuse for misusing material and can lead to legal action.

An intellectual property right is the vital need of the hour which is linked head-on to innovation and creativity. Its important to address how today's nurses can use and share information and enhance their educational offerings without infringing upon copyright protections.

3.2 Objectives of the Event

- To understand the basics of Patents, Copyrights and other Intellectual property rights of Nursing and other health fraternity
- To determine what intellectual property is and what are types
- To know the basic requirements for different types of Patents.
- To understand why to register and how to register for intellectual property.

Brief about the address/talk of speakers

Brief report:

The session started with welcoming of speaker, panel members and participants by Dr. Hariprasath Pandurangan, Asst. Professor, Amity College of Nursing followed by keynote address Prof. Dr. A Tamil Selvi, Principal, ACON. Amity School of Communication, Amity University Haryana

3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event

- 4. The successful planning, designing and development of built environments is hugely dependent on data. A city's data is the backbone of all urban development programmes and often it's most valuable asset if utilized wisely. These days, digital technologies are emerging as important platforms for data management and representation They help the development professionals to adopt more informed and robust strategies for inclusive, sustainable and resilient cities.
- 5. Infographics is visual representation of complex information and data in innovative ways which will facilitate easier insights of the situation and better understanding of complex urban issues. Infographics have the power to present complex urban data in a concise and highly graphical way. The infographics tell data stories effectively by making information easy, educational and engaging.

- 3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)
- 3.1 General Introduction of the Event: A 2-day workshop was organized by the Institute Innovation Council, AUH in association with Central Recruitment Cell (CRC) AUH on the topic of Prototyping, Process Design and Development as well as well as business model canvas.
- 3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event: To inform the attendees about the process of maximizing the benefits of any innovation made and also how to use prototyping and process design for positively influencing business outcome.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

On Day 1, a welcome address and introduction to the speaker was providedby Dr. Anirban Das. Mr. Sriniwas began his talk by giving an introduction about the patenting process and the inventions that may be patented. He talked about the history of process design and gave examples of how companies like Toyota use this for streamlining their business and maximizing profits. He then talked about how the process of prototyping benefits startups and businesses and the process of prototyping in general. The talk ended with a vote of thanks by Dr. Anirban Das.

On Day 2, Dr Kathpalia delived the lecture to the attendees. Notable attendees included Mr Manoj Sahani (CRC), Dr Ruby Singh (CRC), Prof Ranjana Kothari among others. The event began with a welcome address and a brief introduction of the speaker by BBA student Mr. Dipanshu Hans. Dr Kathpalia began a very interactive talk in which he explained in detail about prototyping, process design and development. He gave an in-depth description about the various types of prototyping. He went on to explain in detail about the process development andgave examples of corporates like Starbucks who introduced communal tables for the customers which enhanced the customer satisfaction and increased sales. He also explained how innovative strategies in process design lead to superior business strategies and increased profits for Netflix. Dr Kathpalia answered student's queries and the meeting ended with a vote of thanks by Dr Anirban Das.

- 3.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees; The attendees learnt the process of filing patents as well as what types of inventions were patentable and which ones were not. Also Dr. Kathpalia talked about how process design could have a profound effect on business outcome.
- 3.5 Future plan for utilizing the contacts developed with the Invited Guests AUH could explore filing patents through Rajshri and Associates (Patent Lawyers) and further AUH students could use the huge professional network of Dr. Katpalia to help students, faculty and staff in their innovation related activities.

- 3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)
- 3.1 General Introduction of the Event: A 2-day workshop was organized by the Institute Innovation Council, AUH in association with Central Recruitment Cell (CRC) AUH on the topic of Prototyping, Process Design and Development as well as well as business model canvas.
- 3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event: To inform the attendees about the process of maximizing the benefits of any innovation made and also how to use prototyping and process design for positively influencing business outcome.
- 3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

On Day 1, a welcome address and introduction to the speaker was providedby Dr. Anirban Das. Mr. Sriniwas began his talk by giving an introduction about the patenting process and the inventions that may be patented. He talked about the history of process design and gave examples of how companies like Toyota use this for streamlining their business and maximizing profits. He then talked about how the process of prototyping benefits startups and businesses and the process of prototyping in general. The talk ended with a vote of thanks by Dr. Anirban Das.

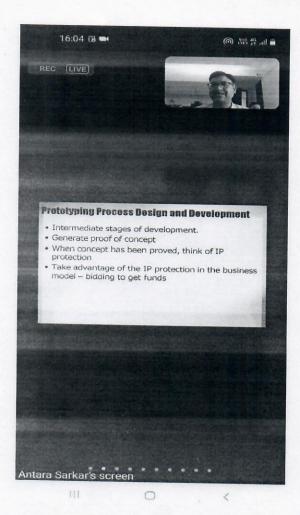

On Day 2, Dr Kathpalia delived the lecture to the attendees. Notable attendees included Mr Manoj Sahani (CRC), Dr Ruby Singh (CRC), Prof Ranjana Kothari among others. The event began with a welcome address and a brief introduction of the speaker by BBA student Mr. Dipanshu Hans. Dr Kathpalia began a very interactive talk in which he explained in detail about prototyping, process design and development. He gave an in-depth description about the various types of prototyping. He went on to explain in detail about the process development andgave examples of corporates like Starbucks who introduced communal tables for the customers which enhanced the customer satisfaction and increased sales. He also explained how innovative strategies in process design lead to superior business strategies and increased profits for Netflix. Dr Kathpalia answered student's queries and the meeting ended with a vote of thanks by Dr Anirban Das.

- 3.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees; The attendees learnt the process of filing patents as well as what types of inventions were patentable and which ones were not. Also Dr. Kathpalia talked about how process design could have a profound effect on business outcome.
- 3.5 Future plan for utilizing the contacts developed with the Invited Guests AUH could explore filing patents through Rajshri and Associates (Patent Lawyers) and further AUH students could use the huge professional network of Dr. Katpalia to help students, faculty and staff in their innovation related activities.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event(Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

The Expert talk Session conducted every week during academic session; is the academicindustry interface of ABS, MBA programme. This special Expert talk session is conducted on online interactive platform on Zoom, Cisco Webex app during these Covid-19 work from home situation, an innovative initiation by ABS, AUH To keep Management students aligned and engaged with their academic and Industry Integration/ expert perspective objectives.

3.2 Objectives of the Event

To apprise and mould Management students of ABS, AUH to have insight into the actual working of legal issues associated with startups.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

- Mr. Syed Asif Iqbal graduated from Lloyd Law College in 2015. He then began his career under Ratan K Singh, and subsequently moved on to Rachana Joshi Issar & Associates. He is the co-founder of advok8.in. He is also the legal head of Lawered . He deals in Consumer matters, Arbitration, Civil law, Service law and also criminal law matters.
- Lawered is one of the legal tech startup among the few in the less explored legal Indian market. It is a technology partner of lawyer and artificial intelligence driven company making legal profession easier and ensuring access to justice for all I awared is a linkedin

- for lawyers. Lawyers and law students can connect with other law professionals on this platform, share opinions, judgments and all legal developments.
- Lawered has also developed a software for corporate, litigants, and lawyers for case management which we call it "case tracking". It is fully automated case tracking system wherein you just have to add your case details once and you get automatic updates on your case, cause list, order sheet and display board of all courts and forum. Moreover, you don't have to carry you court diaries once you have this in your pocket.
- Mr Asif Iqbal said that, entrepreneurship is all about being visionary. It about identifying a problem and solving it for en masse who had started believing that the problem is inherent and they are bound to live with that.
- Mr Asif Iqbal reiterated that a good entrepreneur is always abreast with the market demands and the customer response. Customer service I believe is gradually diminishing from the small and mediums enterprises. The incident of Indigo where indigo attendant assaulted a passenger is alarming. One must understand that the consumer is the king and that is what we are learning every day.
