Lifelong learning access policy

1. Lifelong Learning Policy

Lifelong Learning is dedicated to the cause of those who believe that learning is not age-related nor classroom-bound; rather it takes place throughout life in all kinds of situations. The University has been striving to develop state-of-the-art infrastructure to help our teaching faculty, administrative staff and students in capacity building for ICT skills.

Over the years, higher education (HE) has faced paradigm shift from trade-based economic growth to knowledge-based economy. Innovation in education is considered as the key factor to economic and social development. In order to respond to current socioeconomic imperatives, the higher education systems must innovate to impart skills for employment, and entrepreneurship.

Lifelong learning has been part of our education system since long. Initially, it aimed to impart education and training for adults. Later on, with the reconfiguration, the idea of lifelong learning has been envisaged to impart learning throughout life, including diverse social groups in different settings. Higher education has become more horizontal, as every person is a learner within and outside the organisation. Policy of Lifelong learning towards Higher education encompasses:

- (i) Understanding learning as a continuous need of individuals throughout their lives, and of the contributions Higher education can make in this respect;
- (ii) Acknowledging that societies need more than formal education to deal with local and global challenges;
- (iii) Admitting that both individuals and their communities need to be involved in determining learning needs and goals throughout life.

Keeping these in mind, Amity University Madhya Pradesh has formulated policy of lifelong learning for the learners, regardless of any societal hindrance.
