

Report on SDG 1 - No Poverty

The burden of Insecure/Hazardous employment

Poverty is more than the lack of income and resources to live one day to the next. It means hunger and malnutrition, sub-standard housing, limited access to education and social discrimination. For the Poverty and Employment insecurity Amity University Madhya Pradesh is committed to provide barrier and hassle free working by the uniformed HR policy to all. The goal of the university has been to gather data on trends in insecure employment reported and to encourage policy formulated for the same and review further for better and hassle free employment prospect to all working one in the university.

Working together

Amity University Madhya Pradesh is a partner in the many International Universities some of them is the offshore campus of the Amity University Cluster on Higher Education and Research for Sustainable Development, which promotes the role institutions around the world must play in achieving the SDGs and Agenda 2030. The cluster works on all dimensions of the SDGs, combining economic, social, and cultural sustainability.

Policy made for real people

The Amity University Madhya Pradesh Community brings together faculty, students and staff not just with community groups, but also with people living in poverty. It ensures policy development is fully informed by people with firsthand knowledge about what it means to be poor. As a centrally regulated campuses, Amity University Madhya Pradesh advocates for a minimum wage that allows employees and staffs to earn enough to pull themselves and their families out of poverty, which affects health, education levels and the community's economic prosperity.

Money for those students who need it most

The Amity University Madhya Pradesh is successfully advocated for lower the barriers for low-income and struggling students by diverting an amount from merit-based scholarships to needs-based aid. All Amitian bursaries non-repayable funds used for such things as tuition, books, living expenses and special equipment that are based solely on financial need. In 2018-2019, and 2019 -20 Amity University Madhya Pradesh students received some amount in bursaries.

Help in extremis

When all other avenues have been exhausted, the university provides emergency financial support to students in need -- including those facing a lack of funds for their research and project work or required technology for courses, pending eviction and negative circumstances beyond their control.

In February 2020 The NSS unit of AUMP visited the 'Aatm Jyoti Blind School and Rehabilitation center' and talked with the children and aware those about the benefits of clean environment, health, and significance of the cleanliness, after that food and sweets distributed among children.

Various activities done by the NSS team of AUMP for voting awareness, education, Health and organized the camps for all these activities.

Amity University Madhya Pradesh in collaboration with Gajra Raja Medical College, Gwalior organized a free medical health camp at Kishanpura village of Malanpur, District Bhind on Date 26/1/2019. Meanwhile, we have also organized a Free Medical Health Check Up camp in collaboration with Gajra Raja Medical College (GRMC), Gwalior at Village Kishan Pura in Malanpur. The people of Sahariya tribe are living there in abject poverty and do not have the bare minimum necessities of life. Doctors from GRMC, Gwalior, have given free health check-up to the patients of various age groups and gender. After health check-up a prescription was generated by the doctors and accordingly the registered Pharmacists as well as young budding Pharmacists of Amity Institute of Pharmacy, AUMP has given medicines to the patients along with full information about Pharmacokinetics and drug administration. Also, a Questionnaire from patients was collected by AIP, which has given full information about the socio-economic as well as hygiene status of the tribal peoples. As you know, prevention is better than cure.
