OUR ACHIEVERS

CHARU SINGH

NSS COMMANDER
2026 PARADE

I am Charu Singh, currently pursuing my Master's in Journalism from Amity University Rajasthan. One of the greatest achievements of my life was representing Rajasthan at Kartavya Path during the Kartavya Path 2026 Parade as an NSS Commander. I had the honor of becoming the first NSS commander from Rajasthan since 1988, making this journey even more memorable and historic for me.

The training was extremely intense and demanding. Our days often began at 3 a.m., followed by rigorous practice sessions and walking nearly 30 kilometers daily. The experience tested us physically, mentally, and emotionally, but it also taught me discipline, resilience, leadership, and dedication. Despite the exhaustion, every challenge became worth it when I got the opportunity to salute the President of India on Kartavya Path.

This achievement opened doors to experiences I had only dreamed of. I had the privilege of meeting the President, Vice President, and Prime Minister of India, along with the Chief Minister and Deputy Chief Minister of Rajasthan. I also interacted with officials from the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports and the Ministry of Tourism of India, along with many other respected dignitaries. Recently, I was also honored with the State Award from Rajasthan, which added another proud milestone to my journey. This experience will always remain one of the most defining and inspiring chapters of my life.

Witnessing the grand celebration at Kartavya Path on 26th January alongside my father made the experience even more special and meaningful.

The discipline, patriotism, cultural diversity, and spirit of unity showcased during the parade were truly surreal and left a lasting impression on me. It was not just an event, but an inspiring experience that strengthened my sense of pride towards the nation.

I am sincerely grateful to Dr. Manoj Kumar for his constant guidance and support, and to Amity University Rajasthan for providing me with such a remarkable opportunity and unforgettable exposure.
