Women's Mentoring Schemes

Amity Institute of Behavioral allied Science (AIBAS) and Amity Law School (ALS) have jointly launched the Women Mentoring Scheme for psychological and legal help. The University has made special efforts to launch the mentoring Scheme for Women where the working Woman at the University, Students, and women from the society can access the counseling facility offered by the AIBAS and legal help by the faculty members from the Amity Law School.

Amity Business School (ABS) has launched the mentoring facility to encourage entrepreneurship and help in starting new businesses by the Woman living in the nearby village. The mentoring is provided to explain the process of registration of the business and prepare the woman enthusiast's mindset to develop the new ideas of the business.

The AIBAS, ALS, and ABS schools have also encouraged the students of the University through the mentoring session to help the deprived section of the society to help and support behavioral, psychological, and legal issues.
