

Report on Educational Activities in Association with Annapurna Bal Vikas

The Amity University Chhattisgarh in association with Annapurna Bal Vikas helps the students to learn various music instruments for free. It conducts the free classes for slum childrens every week.

- Listen to the sounds in nature and outside noise and make sense of musical and non-musical sounds.
- Miming of different types of sounds in which people express.
- Participate in the discussions on speech and voice modulation in music.
- Listen to different kinds of voices of musicians, sounds of varied musical instruments, electronic instruments like keyboard, etc. • listen to music played through different types of musical instruments like Dhol, Sitar, Ravanhatta, Sarangi, Shehnai, Damru, etc.
- Learn different types of musical instruments and identify their categories viz., Tat Vadya (string instruments), Ghana Vadya and Avanaddha Vadya (Percussive instruments), Sushir Vadya (Blowing instruments), etc. • sing raga Bhairav, Bhairavi, Bhupali, Khamaj, Des, Brindabani Sarang, Bilahari, Sankara bharanam, Kalyani, Bihag, etc

Outcomes

The learners will

- recognises varied types of sounds, musical and non-musical.
- reproduces the sound through vocal music or any musical instruments.
- identifies different types of voices of musicians.
- identifies sounds of varied types of musical instruments.
- classifies different styles of singing and categories of musical instruments.
- describes India's cultural heritage with its diversity.
- develops videos of music, dance, and theatrical presentation to understand and appreciate the contribution of artists, various forms of music and other arts.

AMITY UNIVERSITY

CHHATTISGARH

